BROTHERS' JURY OUT MORE THAN DAY, NO VERDICT

According to Unconfirmed Reports Voting Is 10 to 2 or 11 to 1 for Acquittal.

PRISONER NERVOUS, PACES HIS CELL

If Defendant Is Cleared He Will Be Arrested and Taken to St. Louis for Trial in Murder Here.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, April 3.—Twelve men, guarded closely, had labored today more than 24 hours over the problem of whether Leo Brothers of St. Louis killed Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune police reporter. They received the murder case at 2:24 yesterday afternoon and deliberated throughout the night, apparently without sleep. There was no indication that a verdict was in prospect.

Through the barricaded jury room, guarded by a double detail of bailiffs there seeped only an occasional sound of argument. "Grappling" information, impossible to confirm, was that the count was 10 to 2 or 11 to 1 for acquittal.

At 12:15 p. m. the jury's lunch was taken up. Judge Sabath left the building and said he would not return until 3 o'clock whether a verdict was reached or not.

Meanwhile, the defendant's relatives, newspaper men and a few spectators loitered in and about the courtroom. It was the first alleged slaying in Chicago's history to go to the jury, but testimony did not go into the gang affairs, both sides relying merely on identification of the alleged slayer.

Brothers, locked in a cell of the county jail, which connects with the Criminal Courts Building by a winding corridor, was described by pliers as showing "extreme nervousness." He paced to and fro in his cell, called for daily newspapers chronicling the case, and stared eagerly for the signal that would indicate he was to be taken into the courtroom for a verdict.

Walters carried breakfast to the jury room, but still there was no verdict. Brothers' Mother Arrives.

Mrs. Rose Jessen, Brothers' mother, returned about 9 o'clock and took up her post outside the courtroom. She went to the home of a friend about 2 a. m. but said she did not sleep. Bailiffs and Brothers went to bed about midnight and that he apparently slept.

Asked how long he would keep the jury at deliberations, Judge Sabath said it all depended on conditions.

"The jury is here for one purpose," he said, "and I intend to give them every chance to come to a verdict. Let them have plenty of time to think."

Judge Joseph Sabath at 1 a. m. entered to his home, leaving word that if a verdict were reached he was to be called. The crowd was ushered from the courtroom. Only a few newspaper men remained.

Brothers to Be Arrested in St. Louis Killing If Acquitted.

Leo Brothers, former St. Louis passenger, is accused of killing Al J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, he will be arrested immediately on a charge of shooting to death John de Blasi, 13-year-old St. Louis service-car driver, Aug. 2, 1929.

Detention Sergeants Paul Girard and Joseph Wren of St. Louis were in Chicago today under orders to arrest Brothers if he is acquitted.

Brothers was named by a brother's jury as De Blasi's slayer. He is accused by police of having engaged in the practice of "shaking down" service car drivers.

De Blasi was killed in an alley in the rear of his home, 5051 Delair boulevard.

John Prosperito, a service car driver, testified at the request that Brothers not be De Blasi. He was unarmed, because De Blasi refused to meet the gangster's extortion demands. A verdict of homicide was returned against Brothers, who fled, and was a fugitive until his arrest in Chicago last January. The Circuit Attorney sent a "hot order" for Brothers to Chicago authorities in the event of his

FAMILY TIED UP ALL NIGHT IN $10,000 BANK ROBBERY

Mundelein (Ill.) Cashier's Wife, Children, Held Captive Till Vault Opens.

By the Associated Press. MUNDELEIN, Ill., April 3.—Four men held the cashier of the Mundelein State Bank captive in his home throughout last night, then trussed up his wife and three children, forced him to open the bank's vaults today and escaped with $10,000.

The robbers entered the home of M. C. Mott at 8:30 p. m., told police, covered him with guns and tied up his wife Grace and their children, Paul, 22 years old; Neal, 20, and William, 17. He said they took him to the bank at 5:30 a. m. and waited for the time to open the vaults at 7:30 a. m.

Mott was left in the basement until released when the door force arrived at 8:30 a. m. He then went home and freed his family. Two of the men had stood guard over the family until the other two returned from the bank in Mott's automobile. They then fled.

U. S. TO INVESTIGATE INCOMES OF NEW YORK LAW VIOLATORS

Campaign Will Be Along Same Lines as That Recently Conducted in Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Federal Government was preparing to day to strike at the organized racketeers.

The campaign, it was indicated after a conference between Federal revenue authorities and the United States District Attorney, would be along the lines of the recent one in Chicago.

Fifty Federal operatives are expected to begin work in the city next week investigating narcotic sales, bootlegging, night clubs, lotteries, smuggling and other activities for which the incomes usually are not reported.

The large bank accounts of policemen involved in the Magistrate's courts inquiry are expected to come under scrutiny.

HOOVER'S EASTER RECEPTION

Prepared to Let Visitors on White House South Lawn.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A group of Eastern visitors received a personal welcome from President and Mrs. Hoover today on the White House South grounds, the first time a public reception has been held there in many years.

An old White House precedent, which has kept the south lawn entirely for the use of White House residents, was broken to allow a crowd of about 300 to enter.

Going to the portico, President and Mrs. Hoover said: "Glad to see you all here," "Welcome, Washington," Mrs. Hoover said.

The gates of the south grounds will be open to visitors from 12:30 to 1:30 each day during the Eastern vacation period.

ACCUSED TAX - DODGER SLAIN

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—Dr. H. J. Scheele, Coroner, said today he was convinced that Jacob Levy, wealthy Stonehurst resident, who was found shot to death yesterday in an office building in Upper Darby, killed himself. Detectives said they had been searching for Levy with a Federal warrant charging failure to pay income tax of about $700,000.

M. P. Levy, his son, said he thought Levy was slain, and other members of the family expressed the same opinion, but police said there was no evidence to bear out

TRIAL OF BRUNK LIKELY TO BEGIN ABOUT MAY 6

State Treasurer Has 30 Days in Which to File Answer to Articles of Impeachment.

HOUSE APPROVES $40,000 FOR EXPENSES

Amendment to Appropriation, However, Strikes Out Provision for Extra Pay for Legislators.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 3.—The impeachment trial of State Treasurer Larry Brunk will not be begun by the Senate until all legislative matters have been disposed of, the Senate yesterday afternoon having voted Brunk 30 days' time in which to file his answer to the articles of impeachment.

This fixes May 2 as the time for the answer, after which the managers appointed by the House to conduct the prosecution probably will have five days in which to file a reply. The Senate will then fix the date for trial.

It is expected the Senate will conclude its legislative work by April 18, when, it is probable, an adjournment will be taken. In this event, the date for the trial probably will be set for about May 6 or 7.

Brunk appeared before the Senate yesterday with his attorney, John G. Madden of Kansas City, who entered a plea of not guilty for the Treasurer and asked for 30 days in which to file his answer. After a brief discussion this time was allowed.

Senator Gordon, majority floor leader, and several other Senators attempted to limit the time to 10 days, Gordon introducing a resolution setting April 13 as the day for the answer. Various other dates up to April 23 were suggested in amendments to the Gordon resolution, but after Madden had insisted that he would need the 30 days he had asked, and after he had stated that the House managers, who were familiar with the evidence, had agreed that he would need that amount of time, the Senate voted it on motion of Senator Clegg.

Madden was prepared yesterday to ask for an order giving him access to the evidence in the possession of the House managers and State officials, but was relieved of that necessity when Gov. Caulfield, Finance Commissioner Cantley and the House managers assured him he would be permitted to examine all records in the possession of State officials and that he would be given access to the complete testimony taken by the House Committee which investigated the Brunk case and which submitted the resolution recommending impeachment.

Extra Pay Stricken Out.

The House today approved an appropriation of $40,000 for expenses of the impeachment trial of Brunk, but struck out of the appropriation a provision which would have authorized extra compensation for the Senators and the House impeachment managers during the trial. The appropriation item was in a general appropriation bill engrossed by the House.

The appropriation item, as recommended by the House Appropriations Committee, provided pay of $10 a day for the 34 members of the Senate while sitting as a court of impeachment, and pay of $15 a day for the six Representatives who were elected by the House to prosecute the case before the Senate.

Members of the Legislature now are receiving $1 a day under the constitutional provision that for a regular session, such as this one, the day of the legislators shall be $5 a day for the first 70 days and $1 a day thereafter. Attorneys have expressed doubt that any provision could be made for paying the Senators and the House managers any extra compensation during the trial because of the constitutional provision.

Covers Witness Fees.

The House adopted an amendment by Representative Whitsaker of Hickory County, which struck out the provision for the extra compensation. The appropriation, which also must be approved by the Senate, will cover witness fees, travel expense, pay of necessary employees, the $1 per diem of the Senators and the House managers and other expenses of the trial.

Representative Limbaugh of Cape Girardeau, one of the impeachment managers, told the House the appropriation was a reasonable one. He said the impeachment of former Gov. Walton of Oklahoma cost $150,000, that the impeachment of Gov. Ferguson of Texas cost $25,000 and that the impeachment of Gov. Sulzer of New York cost $25,000.

The House rejected a proposal that the bill also provide for payment of Brunk's attorneys. Limbaugh said there was no precedent for this.

People of Managua in Flight From Tumbling Homes; Widespread Ruin Wrought by Earthquake

PHOTOGRAPHS taken within a few minutes of the short, sharp, terrific earthquake that destroyed the capital of Nicaragua Tuesday. Left, scene in one of the principal streets, the inhabitants in flight from the crumbling houses on either side of the thoroughfare. Right, all that remains standing of a once ornate and elaborate public building. Managua was a city of about 60,000 population. Most of its buildings were of one story. Hardly a house was left habitable by the great seismic disturbance.

guia will be rebuilt, but today it appeared that the capital would be removed, at least temporarily, to Managua, about half way between Managua and Granada. It was thought that removal to Leon, the Liberal stronghold or Granada, conservative, would cause discontent. It was understood the national bank of Nicaragua would be removed to Granada.

The blaze in Managua, which has never been completely under control since the earthquake, shifted by a change in the wind during the night so that the entire north-west section of the city was threatened.

A large amount of food has been brought by airplanes from Panama, Salvador, Guatemala and Costa Rica, and it is thought there is sufficient here to care for immediate needs.

Vaccination and inoculation against smallpox, tetanus and typhoid are proceeding. Marine corps and naval medical corps officers are assisting the injured. It was estimated that 150 emergency operations were performed yesterday, the work frequently being interrupted by new quakes. Only chemical sterilization was possible.

500 Dead, Some Persons Say.

As bodies are recovered from the ruins estimates of the death toll are being revised upward. Col. F. L. Bradman, in charge of emergency work, now reckons the number of dead at 2,000. Other estimates run as high as 5,000 dead.

The bodies are being buried in some instances but in others being taken to a large fissure outside the city and burned.

Matthew E. Hanna, the United States Minister, has worked under pressure doing what he could to help.

"Nicaragua must have help," he said, "and it seems to me quite natural to assume that such help will come from the United States. I hope my Government will find a way."

He said it was not clear now whether the plans to withdraw 500 marines by June 1 could be carried out, but he disclosed that no marines would be taken away by the navy transport Chaumont this week as had been planned. The men are all needed here, he said.

Ernest J. Swift, acting director of the Insular Relief Operations of the American Red Cross, arrived at Managua today by airplane from Miami, Fla., and the Red Cross now will take over active direction of relief.

U. S. EXPORTS TO RUSSIA
LAST YEAR $149,222,371

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The United States led the world in the value of its sales to Soviet Russia in the fiscal year 1929-30.

The Russian section of the Commerce Department today fixed the value of American exports to Russia at $149,222,371, most of which was industrial and farm machinery for the five-year economic plan. Germany ranked second in sales and England third.

The Russians sold $31,017,050 worth of goods in this country, chiefly lumber, including pulpwood which recently was bartered on the ground that it had been produced by convict labor, coal, matches and similar products.

Shipments of industrial equipment from the United States totaled $46,049,437, or about 50 percent more than in the previous year. Agricultural machinery and supplies for Russian collective farms totaled $71,119,489, of which $64,027,459 was for tractors. The sale of tractors was approximately three times as large as in the previous year. Many combines used for wheat harvesting also were exported.

TO TWO ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTED BRIbery IN WISCONSIN

Ex-Assemblymen and Corporations Charged With Trying to Influence A. Reception.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Federal Judge George A. Carpenter awarded compensations totaling $750,000 to the receiver, special master and law firms connected with the nine-year-old receivership of the Chicago & Alton Railroad. It became known today. An appeal from its sale to the Baltimore & Ohio is now in Federal Court.

Attorney Silas Strawm, Chicago, counsel for the receivers, was awarded $200,000; Receiver William A. Wheeler, $51,500; Special Master Herbert A. Lundahl, $50,000; the New York law firm of Taylor, Blane, Capron & Marsh, $50,000; and the New York firm of Peterson, East, Greenough & Day, $75,000. A Chicago firm was awarded $80,000.

The stockholders were permitted to represent at hearings in the case over the protest of the Baltimore & Ohio, which contended that all questions in which they could have any rights had been settled by court action.

The stockholders claimed an equity in the road of approximately $65,000,000, while the Baltimore & Ohio and the Alton Railroad Co., the latter formed as a holding concern, contended that there were no rights to the road.

Judge Mueller, in charge of the receivership, said the stockholders' contention was well founded.

'FREE LOT' BURKE GETS $100 A WEEK TO AID RECEIVER

To Return From Sanatorium Soon to Explain $182,000 Withdrawal From Firm Shown in Audit.

PROMOTER ONCE VAUDEVILLE ACTOR

Changed Name and by High Pressure Selling Methods Developed Nine Subdivisions.

M. M. Burke, born Morris Max Weinberg, who forsook the vaudeville stage some years ago to try his hand at high-pressure promotion of real estate subdivisions, is expected to return to St. Louis within a few days to explain what has become of $182,000 in additional funds sufficient to promote with $750 for an incidental expense and a teaching unit of elementary schools.

Accompanied by thousands of his most intimate friends and personal representatives of King Haakon of Norway, the land from which he came, his body will be taken to the Church of Sacred Heart at 3 p.m. for funeral services.

Today and until time for the funeral his body will lie in state at his home in Sunnymede, watched over by a guard of honor composed of the boys and men he trained in the school at least one year.

As St. Louis, where he will provide more than $1000 guaranteed to continue to receive payments of schools in $100 for each and 1.3 cents a daily attendance, are sufficient school appropriations.

The promoter, of wily build and complexion, gathered about him a group of fast-talking salesmen and imbued them with enthusiasm for his scheme, so much so that the same audit which fixes his obligations to the company has caused him to pay up with advances of $150. Nine St. Louis subdivisions, still largely undeveloped, testify to the success with which they were able to put their idea across.

How Lots Were "Won."

The plan was at first presented in the rules of a lottery, the salesmen distributing free chances at seeing picture theaters and other amusement resorts, and later informing prospects that they had won lots and could obtain possession of them by paying a small sum, usually from $45 to $75, to cover expenses involved in the transaction.

Later "advertising" lots were sold at a smaller price. "We want you to write to prospects and 'help us advertise' by sending in telling your friends about it. We will give you one of our lots valued by us at $400, or the small sum of $75. This is an opportunity! Don't let it pass!" The lot, the letters said, could be held only for one week, after which the opportunity would be offered to another.

Officials of the Better Business Bureau say the first payment was only a beginning. With the prospect on the ground efficient salesmen urged the purchase of a less desirable lot. Sometimes, they say, the "free lot" could not be paid because it was too small, and it would be necessary to buy one adjoining.

Then Came Improvements.

In any event, the next move was made by the Burke Building and Development Corporation, also in receivership now, which sought to sell lots to contractors calling for installation of street improvements, gas, water and electricity. Many purchasers insisted that a date be set for completion of these improvements, and it was some of these who brought the receivership into being when the time specified had passed with no improvements made.

Burke incorporated this firm in 1917, when he was still known as Weinberg. A few years ago he obtained permission of the Circuit Court to change his name to Burke, mentioning at that time that it was Burke that he was known to those who did business with him.

Fred L. West, receiver of the companies, is cashier of the State Bank and Trust Co. of Wellston, which holds the $20,000 capital stock of the concerns as collateral for loans. He has been receiver since last July and the audit has been in his possession since September, but no copy of it has yet been filed in court.

West says he knows nothing of the nature of Burke's obligation to the company and that it never occurred to him to ask the promoter about it.

"One-Man Companies."

The receiver's attorney, Claude W. McElroy, said he had not had time to study the audit. "These were one-man companies and we needed Burke to help us figure things out," he said. "We were afraid that if we pressed him about the money he wouldn't help us. We won't need him much longer and I will advise the receiver to sue to recover the money."

Principal assets of the St. Louis and St. Charles company are $125,000 in outstanding sales contracts upon which collections are being made. The liabilities include about $60,000 in blanket mortgages against the subdivisions. $52,890 is due to the Burke Development Company for improvements which have not been made, and $12,757 to the Homesteads Investment Corporation, another firm incorporated.

ROCKNE FUNERAL TO BE TOMORROW AT NOTRE DAME

Services to Be Attended by 1400 Close Friends and Athletic Associates of Famous Coach.

By the Associated Press. SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 3.—Knute Rockne will be buried tomorrow afternoon in Highland Cemetery two and one-half miles from the campus of Notre Dame for funeral services.

Accompanied by thousands of his most intimate friends and personal representatives of King Haakon of Norway, the land from which he came, his body will be taken to the Church of Sacred Heart at 3 p.m. for funeral services.

Today and until time for the funeral his body will lie in state at his home in Sunnymede, watched over by a guard of honor composed of the boys and men he trained in the school at least one year.

As St. Louis, where he will provide more than $1000 guaranteed to continue to receive payments of schools in $100 for each and 1.3 cents a daily attendance, are sufficient school appropriations.

The promoter, of wily build and complexion, gathered about him a group of fast-talking salesmen and imbued them with enthusiasm for his scheme, so much so that the same audit which fixes his obligations to the company has caused him to pay up with advances of $150. Nine St. Louis subdivisions, still largely undeveloped, testify to the success with which they were able to put their idea across.

How Lots Were "Won."

The plan was at first presented in the rules of a lottery, the salesmen distributing free chances at seeing picture theaters and other amusement resorts, and later informing prospects that they had won lots and could obtain possession of them by paying a small sum, usually from $45 to $75, to cover expenses involved in the transaction.

Later "advertising" lots were sold at a smaller price. "We want you to write to prospects and 'help us advertise' by sending in telling your friends about it. We will give you one of our lots valued by us at $400, or the small sum of $75. This is an opportunity! Don't let it pass!" The lot, the letters said, could be held only for one week, after which the opportunity would be offered to another.

Officials of the Better Business Bureau say the first payment was only a beginning. With the prospect on the ground efficient salesmen urged the purchase of a less desirable lot. Sometimes, they say, the "free lot" could not be paid because it was too small, and it would be necessary to buy one adjoining.

Then Came Improvements.

In any event, the next move was made by the Burke Building and Development Corporation, also in receivership now, which sought to sell lots to contractors calling for installation of street improvements, gas, water and electricity. Many purchasers insisted that a date be set for completion of these improvements, and it was some of these who brought the receivership into being when the time specified had passed with no improvements made.

FINES OF $180 ARE ASSESSED AFTER FAMILY FIGHT IN COURT

Man and Wife Charged With Peace Disturbance; Quarrel Over Board Bill.

Melbourne Frederick, a real estate salesman, of 4873A Page Boulevard, was fined $50 on each of three peace disturbance charges, and his wife, Mrs. Maxine Frederick, of 5329A Kingshighway Northwest, was fined $10 on each of three similar charges by Police Judge Elmer E. Blaine yesterday. Her fines were stayed.

The Fredericks, testimony was given, engaged in a row with Mrs. Elsa Frederick, of 536 Melville Avenue, University City, his mother, and her attorney, Charles Peper, in front of Justice of the Peace Moore's court at 4006 Chouteau Avenue on Feb. 27. Peace disturbance charges against Mrs. Frederick and Peper were dismissed.

Mrs. Frederick sued her son for $411 back board bill for his wife and himself. The fight ensued as they left the court after a change of venue had been granted.

RAIN EASTER IN EAST LIKELY

Generally Overcast Weather May Spread Over Most of Country.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A rainy Easter today appeared probable for the eastern half of the country.

Weather Bureau officials declined to make any official predictions, but it was indicated that generally overcast weather might spread over most of the country. Rains are expected in the East tonight, and probably will continue over the weekend. The region from the Great Lakes to the Rocky Mountains is experiencing rains and snows. But fair weather prevails in parts of the Mississippi Valley.

COUPON HOAX ALLEGED

DALLAS, Tex., April 3.—The Dallas County grand jury yesterday reported its belief that the asserted kidnapping and flogging here March 5 of two Communists was a hoax.

The investigating body concluded that the organizers "suffered no physical violence and were apparently abducted by other Communists for publicity purposes." C. J. Coder and Lewis Hurst, the men who alleged they were kidnapped and flogged by a band of armed men for advocating intermarriage of whites and Negroes and other radical doctrines, failed to return to Dallas to testify before the jury.

The body will be removed at 2 p.m. tomorrow from the brown brick and stucco home at 1417 East Wayne street to the vine-covered church on the campus of Notre Dame a few blocks away. There the funeral service will be held, with the Rev. Michael Mulcaire, vice president of the university, giving the brief services. The deacon will be the Rev. Thomas Steiner, member of the University Athletic Board of Control, and the sub-deacon, the Rev. Raymond Murch, prefect of discipline for the university. The funeral sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, president of the university.

Pallbearers selected are: Tom Conley, end and captain of the 1930 Notre Dame football team; Tom Yarr, center and captain-elect for 1931; Frank Carideo, all-American quarterback; Marty Brill and Marchmont Schwartz, the halves, and Lawrence (Moon) Mullins, fullback. Twelve classmates of Rockne in the class of 1914 will form a guard of honor.

To Be Knighted by King.

King Haakon assured his representation at the funeral last night when he cabled the Norwegian Consul at Chicago to attend the services tomorrow, accompanied by a group of six prominent Chicago Norwegians. He conveyed his deep regret to Mrs. Rockne and Notre Dame and advised he would knight the departed Notre Dame football coach within the next six months.

Mrs. Rockne, arriving from Florida last night, was met by her mother, Mrs. Hulda J. Jones, Kenton, O., and Rockne's 72-year-old mother, Mrs. Lewis Rockne, Chicago, and others. Her four children, William, 14; Knute Jr., 11; Jean, 10, and Jackie, 6, still didn't seem to realize with the other thousands of Rockne's friends that their father had died.

Plot Against Mexican Governor.

MEXICO CITY, April 3.—Officials from Saltillo say eight miners and two soldiers were arrested at Concepcion del Oro, in the state of Zacatecas, on charges of plotting to assassinate Gov. Luis Reyes of Zacatecas and Mayor Antonio Trevino of the city of Zacatecas.

Opera Singer Dies.

LAWYERS FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO SET ASIDE FEE CUT

Missouri House Refuses to Reconsider $225,000 Reduction of Payment Proposed in Rate Litigation.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 3.—The House yesterday refused to reconsider its action of Wednesday in reducing to $150,000 a proposed legal fee of $275,000 for former Attorney-General John T. Barker and Floyd Jacobs of Kansas City, for representing the State Insurance Department in litigation over the 1922 fire insurance rate reduction of 10 per cent. A motion to reconsider was defeated, 60 to 46.

Barker and Jacobs already have received about $58,000 for their services in nearly seven years of litigation. If the Senate approves the fee adopted by the House, they will receive a total of about $208,000, or $104,000 each if they divide the fee equally.

Representative Freeland of Taney County moved for reconsideration. Representative Whitaker of Hickory County promptly moved that the motion be tabled. The House defeated Whitaker's motion, 60 to 45.

Lawyers Approach Members.

Representative Joffee of Kansas City said that if the House would reconsider its adoption of the amendment, he would offer another amendment providing for payment of $210,000 to the two attorneys. With what they have received, Joffee's proposal would make a total fee of about $268,000.

Discussion developed that the attorneys and their friends in Kansas City had been in communication with House members, expressing dissatisfaction with the $150,000 and suggesting the amount be increased.

Representative Harrison of Crawford County said an attorney in Jacobs' firm called him by telephone today and urged him to make a motion to reconsider. Harrison, who supported the amendment yesterday, said he refused to make such a motion.

Representative Paul of Pettis County said Jacobs had called him by telephone and suggested the amount be increased about $50,000. On roll call Paul voted against reconsideration of the amendment.

Representative Meredith of Butler County, who urged the House allow a larger fee, said he had talked with Barker over long-distance telephone, and that Barker had stated he did not think $150,000 was enough.

Fee Declared Liberal.

Opponents declared the additional fee of $150,000 was ample and recalled that the two attorneys had carried on other law business while the suits were pending. It was pointed out that Barker served as city counselor of Kansas City at a salary of $10,000 during four years of the litigation.

Representative Schneider of St. Louis said the attorney said the fee was a liberal one and opposed reconsideration. Whitaker, Hudson of Gentry County, Divinia of Caldwell County and Beaman of Folk, who offered the $150,000 amendment adopted yesterday, joined in the opposition.

While the House Appropriations Committee recommended the $375,000 fee in an appropriation bill, the motion fixing it at that amount carried in the committee by only two votes.

NEW ISSUE OF SECURITIES
BY TREASURY APRIL 15

Republican Leader Tilson and Senator Harris, Democrat, Join Opposition to Higher Tax.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The Treasury is preparing to raise expense money through issuing new securities. The expected $700,000 deficit grows more probable with the Treasury statement showing income tax collections for March $224,873,000 below those for last year.

At the same time, House Republican Leader Tilson said he saw no necessity for a tax increase by the next Congress. Senator Harris of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the Senate Appropriations Committee, likewise joined opponents of proposed further demands on taxpayers. He thinks a tax raise can be forestalled by a cut in expenses.

After a conference with the President, Tilson agreed with others that no more money would be needed for operations of the Farm Board, which he said "has failed" to stabilize prices.

The Treasury expects to issue its new securities by April 15, so the money will be available at the end of the fiscal year on June 30. Besides meeting the deficit, the Treasury has been asked to supply $100,000,000 more for veterans' loans by April 11.

BOMB SHATTERS GLASS IN HOMES ON SOUTH SIDE

Set Off in Yard of 5915
Arsenal St. Residence of Charles Groeschel by Mistake, Police Think.

The explosion of a dynamite bomb in the back yard of the home of Charles Groeschel, a grocery clerk, 5915 Arsenal street, shattered windows in four dwellings and aroused the neighborhood at 12:15 a. m. today. Because of the apparent absence of a motive for an attack on Groeschel, police suspect the bomb was meant for an Italian fudist in the neighborhood.

The blast broke 20 panes of glass, including four that glass window valved at $100 in the Groeschel home. At the home of A. A.
Perrin, next door east, a similar estimate was placed on damage to windows. Glass was also shattered at the home of Andrew Hill, 5909 Arsenal street, and at 5927, the residence of A. J. Swarter, the loss being $25 at each place.

Police think the bomb was tossed from an automobile passing through the alley. A hole three feet deep and three feet in diameter was torn in Groeschel's yard.

Detectives familiar with gang affairs today expressed the opinion that the bomb if intended for the Italian might have some connection with the recent explosion in the Bader Building, above the offices of the racing information service operated by "Gully" Owens and Beverly Brown.

GOODYEAR PLANNING WAGE CUTS OF 5 TO 20 PER CENT

Largest Reductions Affecting 13,000
Workmen Will Be Made on Unskilled Labor.

By the Associated Press.

AKRON, O., April 3.—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. today announced that a reclassification of wage scales now under way would result in pay cuts of from 5 to 20 per cent for 13,000 workmen. The largest cuts will be made on unskilled labor, where the base rate is now 6 cents an hour, and the pay today is 90 to 92 cents an hour.

The readjustment is expected to be completed in a month or six weeks. The reclassification was worked out after a study of hourly earnings in other important industries as compared with rubber. Other Akron rubber companies are reported to be putting the same sort of pay readjustment in effect.

AT JENNINGS SCHOOL

Donald Hilliard, 6, Said to Have Run in Front of Machine.

Donald Hilliard, 6-year-old kindergarten pupil, was killed by a motor truck in front of the Jennings public school, 8741 Jennings road, yesterday afternoon.

Witnesses said the boy had been to a confectionery and was running toward the school playground when run down by the truck. His skull was crushed. The truck was driven by Albert Small, a Negro, 4333A Cottage avenue. A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today.

Donald was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick V. P. Hilliard, 2507 Hord avenue. The father is a church organist and music teacher.

Police Officer Is Struck by Auto, Leg Broken.

BRITISH DRINK BILL DECLINES

$55,000,000 Less Spent on Liquor in 1930 Than in 1929.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 2.—Figures published by the United Kingdom Alliance, a temperance society, indicate that the people of Great Britain spent $11,000,000 ($65,000,000) less in 1930 on alcoholic liquors than in 1929. Nevertheless, more than $277,000,000 ($1,255,000,000) passed from thirsty citizens to liquor vendors and collectors of that the largest decline was in spirits consumption, which fell more than 3 per cent. Beer

The New Curlee

With Two Trouser... 35

This fabric is only one of many handsome materials in our $35 group. It is a herringbone over-shot weave that would do justice to custom tailored cloth. It is a soft-finish cashmere; it will drape well and hold its press stubbornly. In color it is a coolish gray, inconspicuous to be sure, but indicative of good taste.

Witness in Tennessee Inquiry Tells of Deal in Behalf of Politician.

By the Associated Press.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 3.—Testimony that Luke Lea, newspaper publisher, was involved in obtaining a pardon for a politician who said he could swing 300 votes to Gov. Horton was before the Legislative Investigating Committee today as it continued its inquiry into the State Highway Department.

R. S. Hill testified that while he was a Deputy State Fire Marshal working on the investigation of Governor's campaign, on Frank Babb, free on bond under a $50 fine on a pistol carrying charge, told him he would switch to the administration camp in exchange for a pardon, and that it "would make a difference of about 300 votes for Gov. Horton." Babb had been acquitted of a first degree murder charge, Hill stated.

The witness said he discussed the matter with Treasurer John Nolan, and that Nolan interested Lea in the case. The pardon was issued that afternoon, Hill said.

He testified the Governor was away at the time he signed the pardon at his home that night. He said he understood Lea took the pardon to the Governor.

Under cross examination, Hill said Babb had been required to pay the costs assessed against him.

ELECTION TUESDAY IN 18 CITIES AND TOWNS IN COUNTY

145 Candidates for 94 Posts to Be Filled—Chief Interest in Maplewood's Mayoralty Race.

ONLY 3 CONTESTS
IN UNIVERSITY CITY

Many Are Seeking Offices in Brentwood—Aldermanic Fight in One Ward in Clayton.

Ninety-four officials are to be selected in 18 cities and villages of St. Louis County next Tuesday. There are 145 candidates. Kirkwood will have no town election, having chosen its Mayor and Councilmen last April for two-year terms.

Mayors will be chosen in eight of the cities, including Webster Groves and Maplewood.

Interest centers chiefly in the Maplewood contest for Mayor. The Chief of Police, Joseph E. Kavanaugh, resigned Wednesday to support John D. Fels, now Councilman and Police Commissioner, for Mayor. The other members of the police force of eight men are lined up for his opponent, Mayor Charles S. Humphreys. Fels, known to be a disciplinarian, charges that members of the police and fire departments, contrary to statute, are openly working for Humphreys. Meanwhile, at a mass meeting recently, a resolution was adopted praising the efficiency of both departments.

Three councilmen will be chosen from the following six candidates in Maplewood: Frank L. Martini, Lee Wilson (Incumbent), Louis M. Ruck, Fred E. Heideman, Wilfred Jones and Daniel Hogan.

In Webster Groves, Mayor Edward F. Wilson is opposed for re-election by John B. Chapman. Candidates for the three places in the council are: T. Herbert Heath, Edwin F. Chapman (Incumbent), Burton Forrester (Incumbent), Frank D. Beardslee, George J. Bopp and Roy M. Tidd.

Few Contests in University City.

University City, normally the scene of vigorous campaigns, has only three contests for the seven offices to be filled. Mayor Eugene D. Ryan, Jr., Marshal George F. Ward, Collector W. S. Steele and Alderman Edward Schilling of the First Ward, are unopposed for re-election.

Two aldermen will be named in the Second Ward, for a one- and a two-year term. Jefferson R. Edwards (Incumbent) and Wade H. Bush are candidates for the short term and Arthur E. Ebbs (Incumbent) and Alfred Kanter for the long. In the Third Ward, John W. Vogler (Incumbent) is opposed by Nelson Many and G. E. Palfrey Sr.

In Richmond Heights an important balance of power between the two local parties will be determined. Last year's election saw a Mayoralty for the Progressive party, named with six of the 10 aldermen of the opposing Citizens' party. Only aldermen—one from each of the five wards—will be elected Tuesday.

Candidates are: First Ward, Albert Reilly, Incumbent (Progressive), and Richard T. Krohr (Citizens'); Second Ward, Otto P. Arneson (Progressive) and F. W. Keene (Citizens'); Third Ward, Charles H. DuBois, Incumbent (Citizens') and Anthony E. Mundwiller (Progressive); Fourth Ward, Glenn R. McCarty, Incumbent (Citizens') and William H. Lovell (Progressive); Fifth Ward, John J. Flanagan, Incumbent (Progressive) and Herbert Kreuter (Citizens').

Many Candidates in Brentwood.

Brentwood has many candidates for its municipal offices, four having filed for Marshal, which by a new ordinance will carry with it the title of Director of Public Safety, a salary of $175 a month. Walter R. Douglas, former City Clerk and Alderman, a candidate for Mayor, is 28 years old. His running mate is Jacob J. Spratt. Louis E. Lucas (Incumbent), Albert Holtz, a former policeman; Arthur Tilden and Frank G. Lain are candidates for Marshal. Mrs. Mary McManus is unopposed for re-election to the Collectorship.

Four aldermen will be elected, two of them in the Second Ward, for a long and a short term. The candidates are: First Ward, Joseph Martin, unopposed; Second Ward, long term, Charles (Darby) Smith and James Goggin; short terms, Harold Toussaint and W. C. Street; Third Ward, John Berdolt; and Fred Hackmann.

Clayton—Only one office is contested, that for Alderman of the First Ward, where the incumbent, John E. Eggers, is opposed by Richard D. Cheneau. The other candidates, all seeking re-election, are: Police Judge Henry Stecker and Alderman Jule Strong. John Lynes, Andrew J. Shores and F. A. Camman of the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Wards, respectively.

Ferguson—A Mayor, five Aldermen and a Marshal will be named. Candidates are: Mayor, O. A. Mason, John Mitchell, George W. Gray and Jefferson Smith; Marshal, Irving E. Skinner, S. F. Frazer, Edward Schmidt and Earl O. Jeske; Aldermen—First Ward, Nelson

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1931

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Greene and Fred Melcher; Second Ward, Arthur H. Hall, unopposed; Third Ward, John Fahey Jr., Fred Jeske and Andrew Stoltzman; Fourth and Fifth Wards, H. Vernon Ball and Guyo W. Owen, respectively, unopposed.

Forsyth—All candidates are incumbents unopposed for re-election. They are: Mayor, Joseph Pondrom and Councilmen Fred Fister, Arthur Moran and Joseph Schneide.

Valley Park—Mayor and four Aldermen will be chosen from ten candidates. Mayor: Acting Mayor W. T. Vance, Glen Jones and James E. Basham; Aldermen: First Ward, Theodore Rieffing; Second Ward, Albert McCulloch; Third Ward, A. R. Merritt, John Bole, Emil Wegemann and Robert Lang; Fourth Ward, Henry Engelke.

Shrewsbury—Four candidates for two aldermanic seats. First Ward, G. Contwell and M. I. Ennis; Second Ward, John W. Ward Jr. and Henry Nickels Jr.

Glendale—All offices are uncontested except one. Candidates: Mayor, E. A. Hoheler; Police Judge, John A. Ruhe; Marshal, Thomas J. O'Meara; Collector, F. Sackauer; Aldermen, First Ward, August Korn and Arthur Thonkins; Second and Third Wards, T. P. Smiril and J. E. Masel.

St. John's—The Incorporation party, which wants to perpetuate the town, and the Disincorporation party, whose candidates are pledged to abolish the town if elected, each has a ticket. The County Court recently disincorporated the town, but this action was appealed. The incorporationists ticket, including no incumbents, is: Mayor, Albrt M. Allen; Marshal and Collector, Frank S. Beers; Aldermen, Fred Meyer, Frank Mieser, Harry Sloane and Eugene B. Synder. The disincorporation slate is: Mayor, J. J. Keenan; Marshal and Collector, Frank D. Blackford; Aldermen, George F. Grisejohan and James A. Kirn.

The six villages of Oakland, McKnight, Ladue, Deer Creek, Rock Hill and Huntleigh will elect five trustees each. There are no contests, except in Oakland, where the present trustees are opposed by six other candidates. Incumbents are: Howard E. Nichols, chairman, E. H. Graham, William T. Matthews, E. M. Read and Harry A. Wagner.

Other candidates are: A. H. Brocksmith, Joseph Bamberger, Leo Quinn, Will McGovern, Don Craig and Harry Doerr.

Ladue also will vote on $40,000 bond issue for a fire engine house at Clayton road and Clayton trolley terminus.

Beauty experts warn

against this common error in choosing soap

WOMEN prize youth. Men are attracted to youth. Youth means radiance, beauty, natural charm. "That schoolgirl complexion" is responsible for more conquests than men will admit.

Palmolive Soap is made for one purpose—and one only—to keep lovely complexions young—to keep that schoolgirl complexion.

Ordinary soaps may harm

Don't be misled: Just ordinary soaps—whatever their claims—will not do for you what Palmolive does.

Until women saw the value of Palmolive as a beauty cleanser, few used soap on the face.

When the cosmetic oils of olive and palm were blended in a complexion soap millions, on expert advice, turned to this new, simple, natural beauty method. Millions of lovely complexions testify to its value.

Today over 20,000 leading beauty experts—recognized specialists—urge the use of Palmolive. Because they know the use of this soap makes their work easier and surer of perfect results. No other soap—no other beauty aid—has or ever had such a weight of professional authority back of it.

Why will these important beauty specialists with large clienteles stake their reputations on this strong recommendation? It is important for you to know.

No animal fats

Palmolive—uniquely—is a non-animal fat soap. This is very important. To you who would use soap on your face, it means that it contains no animal fats of any kind but is a true vegetable oil soap. Again—uniquely—Palmolive contains the supreme cosmetic oils of all oils—olive and palm oils. It contains no other fats whatsoever.

There is nothing in Palmolive to roughen or dry the skin. Only the "deep cleansing", lotion-like lather so peculiar to a soap containing olive oil. No wonder beauty specialists urge it.

They see its results. They note the smooth, soft, clear complexions that result.

If you want to keep that schoolgirl complexion, choose Palmolive Soap—and no other!

Keep that Schoolgirl Complexion

RECALLS HANDLING
BANKER'S PACKAGE THAT DISAPPEARED

E. D. Jones Says G. W.
Meyer Gave It to Him and He Was Told It Had Been Taken to Bank.

Emory D. Jones, an auditor at Lorenzo E. Anderson & Co., defunct brokerage firm, today gave his version of the mysterious disappearance of a package of money and coupons left with him last Aug. 5 by George W. Meyer, president of the Bank of Edwardsville, for transfer to the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co.

"Mr. Meyer came in last Aug. 5, the day of the primary election," Jones explained, "and asked if we would send a package to the Mercantile-Commerce bank the next morning, since banks were closed that day. He handed the package to me and I put it on a shelf behind the cage. Meyer didn't say what it contained and did not ask for a receipt."

"The next day, about noon, I asked one of the employees—I don't remember who it was—if he had sent Meyer's package to the bank. He said a messenger had taken it."

Some Money in Package.

A. L. Weissenborn, a vice president at the Mercantile-Commerce Co., said the package had not been delivered to the bank and that Meyer, in inquiring about it, had told him it contained about $1600 in bills of large denomination for which he had no use at Edwardsville, as well as about $2400 in coupons for collection.

This statement is at variance with that of Fred H. Doenges, manager of the Fidelity Deposit Co. of Maryland, whom Meyer referred inquiries. The Edwardsville bank is protected from loss by a blanket policy written by Doenges' company. Yesterday Doenges said the package contained only coupons which could not be cashed, but today he said it contained also some currency, "a negligible amount," which he declined to specify.

Weissenborn was positive that the package was not received by the Mercantile-Commerce Co., explaining that a receipt would have been issued for it if it had been delivered. Meyer, he recalled, had come to the bank on election day with the package, but, since the bank was not open for business, there being only a few officials there, it was suggested that he send the package in next day.

No Inquiry for 80 Days.

Jones said that no inquiry was made about the package for 80 days. "Then," he continued, "we asked the messengers about it but none of them recalled making the delivery. That is not strange since they had carried hundreds of packages since that time."

Since Meyer didn't ask me for receipt we didn't ask one from the bank. I had no idea that the package was of great value. It might have been a bunch of cannery or checks for all I knew.

It seems strange that the Edwardsville bank didn't realize that it wasn't credited for $1,600.

The brokerage firm had three messengers. Jones said, any one of them might have taken the Meyer package to the bank. "Or,"

he added, "it might have been sent over by the porter, but he doesn't remember either."

Rodney W. Abeken, receiver in charge of a fund of $270,000 set aside from the assets of the Anderson Co. to meet claims of the 3 per cent of the creditors who did not assent to the liquidation plan adopted by other creditors, said the Bank of Edwardsville claim had not been brought to his attention.

Claims are being heard before former Supreme Judge Conway Elder, as special master. The bank's claim, he said, has not been formally presented. Creditors still have a month in which to file.

AWARDS IN THUMB BOX
ART EXHIBITION MADEBatik by Tanasko Milovich Adjudged Most Meritorious Work.

Awards were made last night to artists represented in the sixteenth annual thumb-box exhibition of St. Louis Art League, now on view at the old Courthouse. The principal award, for the most meritorious work of art, was gained by Tanasko Milovich, for his decorative batik, "Second Dance From Hungarian Rhapsody."

Cash prizes were not given this year as the league is devoting its funds toward establishing a downtown art center in the Courthouse. Instead certificates of merit were given.

The jury, appointed by Frank B. Nuderscher, chairman of the Exhibition Committee, was composed of Walter La Driere, Martin Kaiser and Delbert D. Knight.

Other awards follow:

Oil paintings—Fred Carpenter, first; Kathryn Cherry, second; Thomas W. Blow and Dr. Edward A. Woelk, honorable mention.

Water colors and pastels—Robert Henri Muttrux, first; Gustav F. Goetsch, second; Mildred Bailey Carpenter and Nina B. Shepherd, honorable mention.

Drawing and prints—Fred Graf, first; Esther Silber, second; Thomas Blow and Nina Shepherd, honorable mention.

Sculpture—Joseph Paredes, first; Paul Corr, second; Charles Hummel and Dorothy Young, honorable mention.

Handicraft—Tanasko Milovich, first, for batik; Gladys Skely, second, for batik; Charles A. Homan, honorable mention, for example of wool inlay.

Awards for pictures of distinctively thumb-box character—Kathryn Cherry, first; Mary Hallett Gagnemeyer, second; Franz Szymanski, and Emmet Adels, honorable mention.

Two U. S. Narcotic Agents Held
by the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 3.—A campaign against the narcotic traffic, which began yesterday with the seizure of opium and heroin valued at more than $800,000, continued today with the arrest of two federal narcotic agents and their supposed confederate, a former agent, Arnold C. Lachenauer, a federal agent posing as a buyer. Charged Peter Ellinor, several weeks ago with sale of narcotics. Lachenauer said he subsequently met two fellow-agents, Richard Nash and Charles R. Keane, and a former agent, Philip A. de Stefano, who gave him $1000 to fail to identify Ellinor. De Stefano, Keane and Nash were arrested by Federal agents.EASTER

AMUSEMENT TAX BILL KILLED BY ALDERMEN

Committee to Make No Report —Similar Decision on Zoning
ing Measures.

The bill to levy a 5 per cent municipal tax on amusements, as a means of providing additional support for the city's hospitals and other institutions, was killed by the Legislation Committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday. The committee voted to make no report on the measure, permitting it to die with the end of the annual aldermanic session next week.

The Board of Aldermen will hold its final meeting of the session next Monday morning. The new fiscal year of the city will begin April 14 and the board's new session will start April 21.

multiple dwelling to commercial district by filling them. The bills affected the south side of Lindell, between Spring and Vandeventer avenues, and both sides between Vandeventer and Whittier street. In the next session an amendment may be introduced for a semicommercial zoning for part or all of Lindell, east of Kingshighway, where restrictions as to height, value and construction of buildings would be applied.

A favorable report will be made by the committee, responding to the request of safety workers, on a bill to establish 231 special traffic stops at street intersections near schools. These stops will apply only between 8 and 9 a. m., 11 a. m. and 1 p. m., and 3 and 4 p. m. on school days. School custodians or policemen will raise and lower hinged stop signs.

The Board of Aldermen will hold its final meeting of the session next Monday morning. The new fiscal year of the city will begin April 14 and the board's new session will start April 21.

RALPH DE PALMA DIVORCED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 3.—Divorce has ended the wedded life of Ralph de Palma, veteran automobile race driver, and Mrs. Clara de Palma, who were married at Newark, N. J., nearly 22 years ago.

De Palma said his wife had insisted he give up racing, but that he could not earn enough money in any other way to provide the comforts to which they were accustomed. He did not oppose the divorce, granted yesterday on the ground of desertion. Mrs. de Palma will receive $25 a week all month for the next eight months. This will be increased to $50 a week for the rest of her life unless she remarries. The De Palmas separated Dec. 1, 1927.

FOR PRIMARY REPEAL IN OHIO

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—Approved by the Senate, the House had before it today a constitutional amendment repealing the direct primary system and restoring the old convention plan of nominating party candidates.

The amendment to the Constitution would compel political parties to nominate state, senatorial and district candidates and select national convention delegates by conventions.

The convention plan of nomination would be optional with counties in nominating county candidates.

The amendment, if approved by the House, would be submitted to the voters at the coming November election and if adopted would become effective Jan. 1, 1933.

EASTER CLOTHES

with the Spirit of SPRING

When you step out of your home on Easter Sunday, will your personal appearance harmonize with the spirit of Spring and holiday atmosphere all around you? It will, if you're dressed in one of our new Spring Suits and Topcoats created for the occasion, in the spirit of Spring.

And when we say created, we MEAN created. For as everyone knows, we design our own styles; we tailor our own clothes in our own tailoring shops; and we sell them direct to you in our own stores, without middlemen's profits.

Naturally, our quality is better; our styles more authentic; our values are greater; our selections are wider. It stands to reason that a clothing manufacturing organization with our unlimited buying, manufacturing and selling resources will excel in quality, style, value and selection.

Right now, gray is the leading color. Tan is a very close second. Blues, as always, are in favor; while browns and pastels are fast joining the leaders. And, as you would expect, we have them all.

Tall or short, stout or slender, our tremendously large stock is your assurance of perfect fit and certain satisfaction.

SENATE PROPOSAL REVIVES HOPES OF REDISTRICTING

Democrats Agree to Compromise Congressional Bill After Appeal by State Chairman Howell.

SUPPORT BY PARTY
IN HOUSE NEEDS

Objections Raised to Committee Measure Ironed Out and It Will Be Considered This Afternoon.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 3.—An agreement reached last night among Democratic members of the Senate on a compromise Congressional redistricting bill provides basis for an opinion that the redistricting, which was believed to be dead, so far as this Legislature was concerned, may be revived, at least, that sufficient support for the compromise may be obtained among Democrats in the House to pass the bill.

The compromise involves only few changes in the original committee substitute reported by Senator Crouse's Committee on Elections, which, except for one minor difference, was a duplicate of the Maxey bill defeated in the House.

Charles M. Howell of Kansas City, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, appeared before the conference of Democratic Senators last night, and urged agreement which would save the Democratic party, which is in control of both branches of the Legislature, from shouldering the responsibility for the tangled condition of election and political conditions in the State which will result in case there is no Congressional redistricting.

Reviews the Complications.

He reviewed the complicated conditions which would result if those were outlined in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, including the fact that without legal Congressional districts all Congressmen would be elected at large; that there would be no legal method of electing a political party State Committee, that the initiative and referendum provisions of the Constitution would become inoperative because the requirement that a specified percentage of the voters to be three-fourths of the Congressional committee to be obtained to initiate and referendum petitions could not be met; that it would be necessary to elect delegates to party national conventions at large, a hopeless political confusion would result in the nomination of 13 candidates for Congress, a condition which easily would result in the concentration of candidates in the larger cities, leaving rural Missouri without representation in Congress.

After Howell left the conference the Senators sought to reconcile their differences. It was soon decided that it was necessary to make some changes in the proposed districting map to satisfy Senator Luther of Scotland County, Senator Gunn of Ottetter, Senator Roll of Columbia, and Senator Donnell of Lebanon.

Objections to Committee Bill.—Luther objected to the committee bill because it placed Congressman Romjue of Macon in the Second District with Congressman Lozier, Carrollton and Congressman McFayette of Fayette, the district being formed that it included virtually all of Lozier's old Second District, included only three counties Romjue's old First. Enactment of the bill, as reported by the committee, would have retired Romjue from Congress as he could not have hoped to defeat Lozier.

Luther and Romjue's objection were largely met by switching the Second District, Sullivant and Knox counties, which were two Romjue's old counties, and switching from the proposed Second to the proposed Sixth District Howard County. The effect of this was to reduce the Democratic majority in the district from approximately $600 to approximately $500. Green and Rollins were satisfied by switch of Howard County to proposed Sixth District, making more certainly Democratic.

Donnelly accepted the proposal. Green, who had objected to the proposed Twelfth District, which took in a large part of the Ozark section of South Central Missouri, became reconciled to leaving it in the district when it was agreed either Wayne or Ripley County would be taken from the proposed Twelfth. This will increase Democratic majority of the Twelfth, which, as originally figured,

JEFFERSON CITY, April 3.—An agreement reached last night among Democratic members of the Senate on a compromise Congressional redistricting bill provides a basis for an opinion that the redistricting, which was believed to be dead, so far as this Legislature was concerned, may be revived, and that there is now a possibility, at least, that sufficient support for the compromise may be obtained among Democrats in the House to pass the bill.

The compromise involves only a few changes in the original committee substitute reported by Senator Crouse's Committee on Elections, which, except for one minor difference, was a duplicate of the Mayes bill defeated in the House Tuesday.

Charles M. Howell of Kansas City, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, appeared before the conference of Democratic Senators last night and urged an agreement which would save the Democratic party, which is in control of both branches of the Legislature, from shouldering the responsibility for the tangled condition of election and political conditions in the State which will result in case there is no Congressional redistricting.

Reviews the Complications.

He reviewed the complicated conditions which would result and which were outlined in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, including the fact that without legal Congressional districts all Congressmen would be elected at large; that there would be no legal method of electing a political party State Committee, that the initiative and referendum provisions of the Constitution would become in-operative because the requirement that a specified percentage of the voters in two-thirds of the Congressional committees must be obtained to initiate and referendum petitions could not be met; that it would be necessary to elect delegates to party national conventions at large, and that hopeless political confusion would result in the nomination at large of 15 candidates for Congress, a condition which easily would result in the concentration of the candidates in the larger cities, leaving rural Missouri without representation in Congress.

After Howell left the conference, the Senators sought to reconcile their differences. It was soon decided that it was necessary to make some changes in the proposed redistricting map to satisfy Senator Luther of Scotland County, Senator Gunn of Ottetter, Senator Rollins of Columbia and Senator Donnelly of Lebanon.

Objections to Committee Bill.

Luther objected to the committee bill because it placed Congressman Romjue of Macon in the Second District with Congressman Lozier of Carrollton and Congressman Major of Fayette, the district being so formed that it included virtually all of Lozier's old Second District, but included only three counties of Romjue's old First. Enactment of the bill, as reported by the committee, would have retired Romjue from Congress as he could not have been re-elected to represent Lozier.

Luther and Romjue's objections were largely over switching to the Second District, Scotland and Knox counties, which were two of Romjue's old counties, and by switching from the proposed Second to the proposed Sixth District, Howard County. The effect of the change will be to reduce the anticipated Democratic majority of the district from approximately 3000 to approximately 2500. Gunn and Rollins were satisfied by the switch of Howard County to the proposed Sixth District, making it more certainly Democratic.

Donnelly Accepts Proposal.

Donnelly, who had objected to Green County being included in the proposed Twelfth District, which takes in a large part of the Ozark section of South Central Missouri, became reconciled to leaving it in the district when it was agreed that either Washington or Ripley County would be taken from the proposed Eleventh District and put into the Twelfth. This will increase the Democratic majority of the Twelfth, which, as originally figured, was

Muench Declares Proposed Charter Amendments Won't Increase TaxesCity Counselor Asserts They Are Designed to Lessen Delay in Condemnation Proceedings and Thereby Cut Costs.

The nine proposed city charter amendments, to be voted on in next year's election, contain nothing which could increase taxes, City Counselor Muench declared in a statement issued today. The City Counselor spoke in reply to statements, some of them made in radio talks, which have been unfavorable to the proposed amendments.

The City Counselor said the purpose of the amendments was to lessen delay in condemnation proceedings for city undertakings, and thus to lessen the cost of such undertakings to property owners.

"A large part of the loss occasioned to property owners under the present system," he said, "has been through delay in carrying out street widening projects. By lessening the delay the amendments seek to do away with this loss."

Regarding fears of increased taxation, the City Counselor said:

The nine proposed amendments provide in any way for any increase in taxation, and there is no provision in any of them under which taxes could conceivably be increased."

He answered another objection, to the effect that the amendments cannot or should not be adopted until the city has changed its present method of electing Aldermen, by general ticket. The State Constitution (Art. IX, Sec. 22) provides that the St. Louis City Charter shall establish, at least one house of legislation to be elected by general ticket. Therefore, the City Counselor says, the city could not change its method of electing Aldermen unless the State Constitution were changed. The city could restore the old two-house system, with one house elected by wards, which prevailed before the 1914 charter was adopted, and which remained in rule by combined in the House of Delegates.

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

The Greatest Story
ACCORDING TO THOMAS. By Ivan Nashivin. (Harper & Bros., New York City. $2.00.)

G RANTING, as we must, the inexpressible, and perhaps not wholly deplorable, mythological faculty of the human mind, and realizing therefore that no traditional account of any great spirit's activities in our world is likely to be in strict keeping with the facts as they were, how may the life and teachings of Jesus of Nazareth have struck a realistic observer who loved and admired the man? How might Jesus have appeared to Thomas, for instance, assuming that the latter's alleged addition to doubt was really no—or better still, no less than—a clear-headed insistence upon the simple but, to him, none the less glorious truth?

The question is one not likely to end in hospitable reception in certain minds; nor is this surprising in a world where conventional form is quite naturally so much more convincing than substance; that is to say, a world in which the embalming medium of a vital idea so often displaces in our minds the thing embalmed—and killed in the process! But it is a question that may lead to heights of illuminating vision, nevertheless, as Ivan Nashivin's book, here listed, will attest.

In our day when it is somewhat the fashion to flatter the great gray mass by the disparagement of greatness—not without cogent commercial reasons—it may be supposed that Nashivin here, as much up to the same old dismal task of mediocrity on a profitable rampage; but nothing could be further from the truth. It is obviously a noble spirit that is at work in this book. We are assured, and it is scarcely to be doubted, that the book, long in mind, was undertaken only after many years of study and of mellowing. Far from endeavoring to destroy the story of the Teacher, it is his purpose to penetrate what he believes to be the concealing accretions of legend and doctrine that he may reach the living heart of the matter. And, strange as it may seem to those who must have the dogma or nothing, the power, the beauty, the simple goodness, the wisdom, and, not least, the humanizing pity of it all, that emerge from the work are such as to inspire and glorify all but the basely cynical.

THE MAN FROM TEXAS. By E. B. Mann. (Wm. Morrow & Co., New York City. $2.00.)

A comprehensive and surprisingly sane discussion of the brilliant artists and their work from Giotto to the present day. The vital attitude of the author toward his subject seems well stated, as follows: "My whole book is a tribute to the power and glory of artists whose work is impregnated with human meanings and interwoven with the fabric of the social structure, as opposed to the futile practitioners of art for art's sake." The volume contains about 200,000 words and is illustrated with 40 full-page reproductions—more value at the price quoted.

MISS LUCY THOMPSON, daughter of Guy A. Thompson, 12 Washington terrace, has as her guest Mrs. Florence Steinway, daughter of Mrs. Julia Steinway of New York. Miss Steinway arrived yesterday. Several parties are being arranged in her honor. Mrs. Steinway and her family have a house at Hyannisport, Mass., where Mr. Thompson and his family spend the summers.

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made in New York of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mrs. Henry C. Garneau, formerly of St. Louis, and Thomas W. Brander of New York. The news was contained in letters received yesterday by St. Louis friends and relatives.

The marriage will take place within a few weeks in New York, where Mr. Brander and his bride will reside following a wedding trip. Mrs. Garneau was before her marriage Miss Nancy Johnson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of St. Louis. She is well known socially here, and moved to New York about a year ago.

Mrs. Garneau is a niece of Mrs. James M. Francis, 10 Lenox place, and Mrs. Louis T. Maguire, 1812 Longfellow boulevard.

THE ANNUAL ELECTION of officers of the Junior League will take place next Wednesday in the clubrooms, 4914 Maryland avenue. The annual luncheon will be given at the St. Louis Country Club in May.

Seven street paving bills involving an estimated expenditure of $168,530 were recommended to the Board of Aldermen by the Board of Public Service today. Seven other proposed improvement projects, which would cost about $143,170, were not recommended because of the protest of property owners at a hearing Tuesday.

Improvement bills recommended were: Hampton avenue, from Columbia avenue to Eveline street, $55,000; Watson road, from Fyler to Southwest avenues, $35,400; University street, from Twenty-second street to Jefferson avenue, $45,260; University street, from Jefferson to Glasgow avenues, $17,910; Jefferson avenue, from Hebert to Palm streets, $4540; Wells avenue, from Kingshighway to Academy avenue, $16,430; Eleventh street, from Hebert to Branch streets, $13,390.

The bills which were not recommended and which die by the way, comprised improvements on Sidney street, from Lamp street to Grand Avenue; Ohio avenue, from Sidney street to Shenandoah avenue; Newberry Terrace, from West End avenue to Walton avenue; Bayard street, from Hodiamont tracks to Easton avenue; Mallinckrodt street, from Twentieth to Twenty-fifth street, and Fourteenth to Twenty-fifth streets; and Buchanan street from Broadway to Eleventh street.

Suggests Mississippi Story.

"It isn't true. You could do a maritime history of your own Mississippi. There's a credible romance in the American clipper ships, and no American has written a line about them."

"So I wrote this whole last book about the maritime background of one little Australian island—fleets that have vanished from the sea."

He had been a sailor for years before he turned writer and newspaper man. What had led him into the bleak life of the old-time wind-jammers?

"I was born at Melbourne," he remarked. "From my home I could see the sails in the harbor. As soon as I could walk I'd go down to the docks. I kept a book at home, and when I came home I'd draw the ships."

Addressee University Club.

He had written of the voyage on the full-rigged ship Grace Harwar, last of the "Cape Horners," which he described last night at a dinner of the University Club, as his last. Was it to be his last?

"That voyage," he said slowly, "was almost enough." But a year or two at steam, where a seaman washes paint, scrapes paint and paints paint, hadn't converted him from the real sea with sails on it.

"Steamers on the Atlantic," he said, recalling his recent trip as a passenger, "bring in every distraction you could conceivably have on land. And the only places where you could possibly have a look at the sea—they put up a piece of broken glass."

X-RAY BARES HIDDEN
IDEAS OF REMBRANDTBerlin Discovery for Penetrating Great Paintings Explained
by Harvard Expert.By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 3.—X-rays used to examine great paintings sometimes look straight through the surface upon long hidden ideas of the masters—into dead men's minds.

brandt buried under his famous 'Susanna and the Elders,' now in the Berlin museum.

Record of this and other such ideas, plainly showing under the finish in bold, sketching under-strokes with which the picture was first outlined were presented at the Metropolitan Museum of Art last night. They were explained by Alan Burroughs of the Art Museum of Harvard at a meeting of the College Art Association.

"Looking at the shadowgraph of this picture one finds evidence of alteration. In the beginning Rembrandt had Susanna looking straight ahead in profile, her shoulder was raised, her left hand was clutching the air, her right hand clinging to drapery at her waist and some folds fluttered in motion down by her feet.

The Elder who stands behind her, instead of having his hand on his chin in rather sedate gesture, has his hand raised in a nervous one, his left hand instead of clutching the drapery at Susanna's back crossed her body and grasped her by the left shoulder.

Burroughs said thickness of strokes, differences in composition of pigments and styles produced the telltale underneath shadowgraphs.

ASKS RED CROSS TO AID

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS

Union Officer Repeats Story of Distress Given to Senate Committee.

$7000 IN GASOLINE TAX FROM DELINQUENT COMPANIES

Check of Books Expected to Increase City's Revenue From This Source $100,000 Yearly.

Arthur C. Meyers, auditor in Comptroller Nolte's office, reported today the collection of $7000 from gasoline companies which had not made returns on the city tax of one-half cent a gallon. He told the Comptroller he had obtained affidavits during the last three months and had made a check of gasoline company books which would make possible additional collection of $35,000.

Appearing before Vice Chairman Fleser, Scott presented virtually the same description he had given the Senate Unemployment Insurance Committee yesterday. He asked for a Red Cross investigating committee to go to West Virginia immediately and "see conditions for yourself."

Scott reiterated his statement made before the Senate Committee that repeated appeals to the State Red Cross in Charleston, W. Va., had failed to obtain a publication in West Virginia's isolated mining regions, unable to aid themselves because "the coal companies own everything."

These people, Scott said, seldom saw money, their medium of exchange being tin script circulated by the coal companies. They were unable to raise gardens, he said in response to queries from Fleser, because "they can't stay long enough to reap the things they plant."

"The children have no kind of proper nourishment," Scott said.

"They have no milk but canned milk, no food but horse food, flour, potatoes, pinto beans and sowbelly. They never have any fruit except evaporated fruit."

"The working classes in West

Virginia don't know what the Red Cross means as a relief agency," he said. "They have heard that it helps in drouth relief, but that is about all."

Scott estimated at least $300,000 must be contributed to prevent

West Virginia."

Fleser said today the conditions referred to yesterday did not come within the practice of the National Red Cross. Fleser said the whole tradition of the organization is to deal with disasters and not local industrial distresses. Local chapters, he said, had wide discretion.

Says Script Is Given Both to Idle and Working Miners.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 3.

Duncan C. Kennedy, Secretary of the Kanawha Coal Operators' Association, criticizing a statement in the Washington herald that the Cabin Creek Consolidated Coal Co. had offered miners $1 a day in script to "keep them out of the union," said the dollar was given the miners "whether they work or not" under "the policy of the company during this time of depression."

Boyd B. Stutler, chairman of the Charleston Red Cross Chapter, said that "generally conditions are not good," but said that he knew of no cases of starvation. Commenting on testimony that the Charleston chapter had declined to aid miners, Stutler said, "We have helped from our own chapter funds and have borrowed as much as we can and helped in all ways possible."

Hoover Promises to Aid Kentucky and Tennessee Miners.

By the Associated Press.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 3.

President Hoover, in a telegram today to W. M. Turnblazer, president of the United Mine Workers in District 19, promised to all miners in the Kentucky and Tennessee coal fields.

Turnblazer had wired the President asking for relief for the families of "homeless and hungry miners" who he said, had been discharged by coal companies for "attending union mass meetings."

President Hoover's wire read: "I have notified Judge Payne, general chairman of the Red Cross, of the conditions existing in your territory. He informs me that he will send a representative to Tennessee and Kentucky mining districts immediately and that every effort will be made to eliminate the deplorable conditions of which you speak."

Turnblazer said both he and Gov.

Sampson of Kentucky had wired the Red Cross in Louisville before telegraphing the President.

DEMOCRATIC AUTO INSURANCE BILL

Substitute Liability Law Proposed in Massachusetts.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, April 3.—State Senator John D. Mackay, chairman of the Legislative Committee on Insurance, announces that the committee has voted to approve a bill repealing the Massachusetts automobile liability insurance law.

The bill will substitute for the present plan a responsibility plan based on the systems in effect in Connecticut, California, and other states as well as the District of Columbia and provinces. It will contain a demerit plan under which motorists involved in accidents would be obliged to pay higher rates for insurance. A motorist involved in an accident would be deprived of his license to drive until he had made adequate compensation, either through insurance or otherwise, for any damage caused.

Model of Bagnell Dam for Show.

A model of the Osage hydro-electric power dam, at Bagnell, Mo.,

will be displayed at the Mississippi

Valley Industrial Exposition at

The Arena, May 1-10, by the Unen-ited Electric Light and Power Co.

The model will be about 100 feet long and will include a miniature lake.

We Still Need Our Railroads

A Message from
L. A. Downs, President
Illinois Central System.

This is a vast country, with long distances to be covered and large areas remote from seacoasts. Railroads are peculiarly fitted to its transportation needs.

Railway service, purchases, employment and taxes have contributed greatly to the upbuilding of the country. These contributions must be continued.

We still need our railroads.

Yet many business men are using other methods of transportation, confident that the railroads will somehow get along and be available when needed.

This is a dangerous idea. No farmer expects to work his horses and feed them only when he wants to work them. Railroads too must live in order to work.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

L. A. Downs
Chicago, April 1, 1931

This progressive railroad has exerted a large influence upon the development of agriculture, industry, population and wealth in the great Mississippi Valley.

PAIR IN AUTO ESCAPE UNDER FIRE OF POLICE

12 Shots Fired at Suspects Found in Alley Back of Cigar Concern.

Six holdups with deadly weapons were reported to police last night and today.

Edward H. Meyer, 5524 South Grand boulevard, was robbed of $50 by a man who crowded into his automobile at Eighteenth and Washington streets and forced him to drive to Eighteenth and Allen avenue. The robber then got in a machine which had followed.

A stranger with whom Arch Duncan, 3701 North Ninth street, started a conversation in a restaurant, 2500 North Sixteenth street, induced him to walk to Fifteenth and Warren streets. There they met another man who slugged Duncan and took $11. Duncan was treated for abrasions at City Hospital.

Two Suspects Elude Police.

Three groups of policemen fired 12 shots at two men, who fled in an automobile when officers sought to question them in an alley in the rear of the General Cigar Co., 4312 Clayton avenue, last midnight.

Sgt. Kraeger and Patrolman Pickel, Newstead District, investigating an unlighted automobile in the alley, report that two men jumped into the car and the driver attempted to run down the sergeant. The latter drew his revolver, firing four shots at the car, which swerved sharply.

The shots attracted Detective Sgt. Dempsey and Detective Himes, riding in a police machine. They took up the chase west in Clayton avenue, firing seven shots without effect. Detectives Whelan and Malone, also in a police car, joined in, firing two shots. The machine outdistanced the police cars at Kingshighway.

The only known effect of the police bullets was the breaking of a window at 4498 Forest Park avenue. Nothing was taken from the cigar concern.

John White and Miss Dixie Rackley, employees at the city sanitarium, were seated in an automobile in Tower Grove Park when they were held up by three men who took $3.50 from the young woman.

Other holdups: Dry goods store of Abe Edelstein, 620 North Andrew Avenue, $100; delicatessen of Otto Moek, 2437 McNair avenue, $40; Alois Rauer, 5530 Pershing avenue, $7.

Purse Snatcher Caught.

A Negro booked as Henry Brooks, 31, arrested at Fifteenth and Fallon streets yesterday after a chase, was identified as the man who snatched the purse. Mrs. Eleanor Buhl, 4946 Delmar boulevard, at Fourteenth and Wash streets, a few minutes earlier. The purse contained $1.10, which was found in the suspect's pocket, police report.

Miss Esther Simon, 2714 North Grand boulevard, was robbed of her purse, containing $2, and an umbrella by a man who stopped her in the 3700 block of Palm street last night.

Mrs. Lena Gellman, superintendent of the Jewish Old Folks' Home, 1438 East Grand avenue, reported she discovered yesterday that a diamond and platinum bar pin valued at $1,000 had been stolen from a chest in her room.

DISS AFTER AUTO TURNS OVER 3 TIMES

W. W. Vaughan of Marshall, Mo., Was Driving Car That Left Highway.

By the Associated Press.
MARSHALL, Mo., April 3.—W. W. Vaughan, about 70 years old, of Marshall, was injured fatally today on highway No. 65, 10 miles west of Marshall, when the automobile he was driving left the highway and turned over three times.

Vaughan's skull was fractured and his chest crushed. H. C. Kinney of Koshkonong, Mo., who was with him, received injuries about the neck and shoulder. Vaughan died shortly afterward in a hospital.

Woman, 69, Killed by Train at Shelbyville, Mo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.—SHELBYVILLE, Mo., April 3.—Mrs. Bertha Harmon, 69 years old, was fatally hurt today when struck by a Burlington freight train while walking along the track near her home. She was the wife of L. D. Harmon, operator of a filling station. An adopted daughter, Mrs. Mary Richards, lives in Hannibal.

REROUTING OF NATURAL BRIDGE STREET CAR LINE APPROVED

JEFFERSON CITY, April 3.—An application by the St. Louis Public Service Co. for authority to abandon the tracks of the Natural Bridge street car line on Seventh street, between Walnut street and Chouteau avenue, in St. Louis, and to reroute the Natural Bridge line, was granted today by the Missouri Public Service Commission.

The rerouting authorized under the commission order is as follows:

Southbound cars will operate over the present route to Eighth and Pine streets, east on Pine to Broadway, south on Broadway to Chouteau avenue, thence south over the present route, northbound cars will operate over the present route to Broadway and Chouteau avenue, thence north on Fourth street to Pine street, west on Pine to Ninth street, and thence north over the present route.

The order requires the company to remove all wires, other overhead equipment and trolley poles from Seventh street, between Walnut and Chouteau, within a reasonable time, and to remove the double tracks when the city repaves the street. The City of St. Louis did not oppose the proposed abandonment. The commission stated in its order that owners and occupants of property on the part of Seventh street affected favored the proposed change.

RESETS TRIAL OF PETITION AS TO SOPHIE FRANZ ESTATE
Judge Orders Supplemental Citation for Executor, Who Has Been Out of City.

The application of Circuit Attorney Miller to require G. A. Buder, as executor under the will of Mrs. Sophie Franz, to inventory 183,333 shares of Burroughs Adding Machine Co. stock as part of the assets of her estate, was rejected today for trial in Probate Court on April 17. A hearing had been set for this morning, but Buder, who has been out of the city, was not served. Judge Holtcamp ordered that supplemental citation be served.

Attorney-General Hartel, through his assistant, Henry H. Stern, and special assistant, Richmond C. Coburn, entered appearance in the case today and joined in the petition of the Circuit Attorney. For State income tax purposes the stock in controversy, which the petition values at $5,000,000, would be subject to an assessment of approximately $250,000 if included in the inventory.

The issue in controversy, it was said, concerns actual ownership of the stock. It is the contention of the executor that the stock belongs to the trust estate of Mrs. Franz's deceased husband, Elhardt D. Franz, and was not part of her individual estate. The trust estate has been in litigation in Federal Court.

LESLIE OLIAN FILES NEW PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Leslie Olian, 5556 Waterman avenue, who has been beset recently by lawsuits brought by merchants, filed his second petition in bankruptcy in Federal Court yesterday.

His first bankruptcy suit, filed Feb. 21 under a so-called pauper's oath, was dismissed March 19 upon recommendation of Referee Coles, who said the schedules of assets and liabilities had not been filed within the legal period and that the circumstances of the suit seemed to indicate the bankrupt was improperly using processes of Bankruptcy Court to secure immunity as against a lawful process of the State Court.

A judgment creditor had brought a mandamus action in Circuit Court to compel a Constable to carry out a levier. The action was dismissed, however, because of defects in the writ of execution.

With yesterday's bankruptcy petition, Olian filed schedules listing liabilities of $7619, chiefly due merchants for clothing and groceries, and assets of $2750, of which $1200 was in household goods and $1500 in unliquidated claims.

Pickets Close Four Collieries, SCRANTON, Pa., April 3.—Pickets from the ranks of striking employees of the Glen Alden Coal Co. in Luzerne County came here today and succeeded in closing four collieries of the company—the Dodge, Diamond, Bellevue and Archbald. JEFFERSON CITY, April 3.—A motion to place a bill aimed at public utilities selling merchandise in Missouri on the Senate calendar for final passage, despite an adverse report of the Judiciary Committee, was argued for an hour in the State Senate today before being withdrawn by its sponsor.

Senator J. H. Whitecotton (Dem.), of Paris, made the motion, and in doing so explained it was the first time in his long legislative career he had made such a move.

The bill would prohibit selling gas and electric companies. It was passed by the House by a vote of 87 to 21. Many merchants have favored the proposal.

Senator Donnelly (Dem.), Leavenworth, in a fiery speech, pleaded for the bill.

Report on Result of Year's Survey Of Effect of Chain Store Competition

M. M. Zimmerman Asserts Independents Lead in 19 of 24 Lines and Do 78 Pct. of Nation's Retail Business.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Independents, the chain stores, dominate the field in 19 of 24 divisions in the retail field, M. M. Zimmerman, merchandising consultant, reports after a year's investigation.

Zimmerman thinks the independent will maintain his supremacy, although, he said, the chain store has an important function and is here to stay.

In classifying the retail systems comprising 7837 chain systems with 200,000 unit retail outlets and the 1,264,000 independent retail outlets, Zimmerman gives his opinion of the comparable position of the chain and the independent in each. The independents are predominant in 19; the chains, in three; in one the balance is nearly even, and in the twenty-fourth, the department stores, the chain is not important.

The wide-awake merchant is making use of the priceless weapon of personality which his lone competitor, and which the chain even with its high powered organization has so far not been able to develop.

Where Independents Lead. There is no chain problem, he says, in building materials, electrical appliances, general stores, jewelry and millinery, auto accessories are predominantly independent. Bakers are also independent, but face increasing competition from the chain food stores. Competition in cigars and tobacco consists chiefly in price cutting, but the independents are more than holding their own.

Cleaning and dyeing and confectionery are still dominated by the independent. Independents also lead in the drug store field, but the chain sets the pace in price cutting. Five and 10 cent stores are controlled by the chains, though the independent enjoys most of the chains' buying advantage. Florists and furniture dealers have little to offer.

Small Grocers Hardest Hit. Chains have presented the most difficult problem to the independent in groceries, where he suffered most. Gasoline filling stations, chain controlled, are subsidiaries of the oil refiner. Hardware does not lend itself to chain expansion. Chain competition is gradually being eliminated from the men's furnishing and clothing field, Zimmerman thinks, by the higher type of independent's personal service.

The system of radio distribution, largely controlled by the manufacturer, has not gone in for chains. There is no chain competition in paint and wall paper. Sporting goods dealers have price competition with mail order houses, but very little with chains. While chains presented many difficult price problems in the shoe field, Zimmerman thinks the independent is overcoming them with manufacturers' aid.

STRANGLES MOTHER WITH ROPE AND SURRENDERS TO POLICE

Bronx Man Says Parent Upgraded Him for Not Working.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Joseph Forzett, 29 years old, pale and agitated, walked into Bronx police station yesterday and said: "I think I killed my mother. I strangled her with a rope. She can't breathe. I got excited and lost my head."

Police hurried to the Bronx address he gave and found the body of Mrs. Barbara Forzett, 54, on the floor, a rope twisted about her neck.

The son said his mother uprejudiced him for not working. He was held for homicide.

FORMER CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR HELD ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ELDORADO, Ill., April 3.—Held in jail here for trial May 4 on a charge of vagrancy, Roy Groves, 49 years old, a defeated candidate for Mayor here, who says he is a State organizer for the International Red Trades Union, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois district of the National Miners' Union, and one of 150 delegates sent by the Trades Union to study conditions in Russia for six months in 1928, is expecting arrival of lawyers from the Chicago branch of the Trades Union to arrange for his bond and defense.

Groves, who recently lost his job as a miner here, polled 19 votes in the city election last March 3. He was arrested by Sheriff Eugene Choisser Tuesday for an alleged disturbance of the peace during an argument over present labor conditions.

HITLERITES CLASH WITH PARTY REBELS

German Fascists Loyal to Leader Are Ejected From Berlin Headquarters.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, April 2.—A lively clash occurred here last night when followers of Adolf Hitler, National Socialist, or Fascist leader, tried to force an entrance into the party headquarters, which was held by 500 supporters of Walter Stennes, who was ousted Wednesday as generalissimo of the party's "storm troops" of Northern Germany.

The Hitlerites were ejected from the building on a side street near Friedrichstrasse, a main thoroughfare, amid great confusion as to who belonged to which faction.
Police had difficulty in keeping traffic lanes clear.

Order was restored after the Stennes men abandoned the headquarters and opened a new office a short distance away. They left the staff of the Der Angriff, Nationalist Socialist newspaper, in charge of the old premises.

Hilter's Party Struggle.

Following the removal of Stennes as generalissimo, Hitler, who a short time ago seemed about to become dictator of all Germany, has been fighting to maintain order in his party. He appealed to Paul Joseph Goebbels, his right-hand man, to take hold of the situation in the North and purge the party of all malcontents.

While the Berlin headquarters were in the hands of followers of Stennes, who slammed the door against the successor appointed for Stennes, a statement was issued denouncing Hitler. This was signed by the deposed generalissimo and leaders of the Northern "storm troops." This indicated that the revolt was not confined to Berlin.

Warning Against Newspaper.

Party leaders in Berlin who are still faithful to Hitler have published a warning that the newspaper, Der Angriff, previously the "Nazi" organ here, must no longer be regarded as the official mouthpiece, since followers of Stennes had installed themselves in the newspaper offices and were "terrorizing" the staff.

"Legal steps will be taken to end this situation," the statement added.
The "faithful" added that virtually the entire party remains loyal to Hitler. They condemned the revolt as a "betrayal."

The break between Hitler and Stennes resulted from the policy of the former in attempting to keep the Nationalist Socialist movement within the law. Der Angriff published a statement that under Hitler the party's leadership had become so "milk-and-waterish" that many of the party's leaders were joining with the Communists.

NEGRO KILLS GEORGIA SHERIFF, POSSE HUNTS HIM IN SWAMP

Prisoner Seized Officer's Pistol and Fired; Reported Surrounded by Pursuers.

By the Associated Press.
FAIRBURN, Ga., April 3.—A Negro prisoner seized a revolver from Sheriff T. W. Camp, shot him to death in the courthouse here and was fled with a posse close on his heels.

The fugitive was reported surrounded in a swamp by a crowd of armed citizens and his capture was expected. The Negro was waiting in the Sheriff's office for transfer to the county jail. He suddenly sprang toward a door to escape and Sheriff Camp grappled with him.

Grabbing the officer's pistol, the prisoner backed off a few steps and fired. He fled in an automobile.
Atlanta officials sent blood-hounds to aid in the hunt.

REPENTANT HUSBAND BUTTS HEAD AGAINST RADIATOR

Follows Advice of Probation Officer After Disturbing Wife's Peace.

Eugene Lucas, 308 Franklin avenue, in Police Court today for disturbing the peace of his wife, was warned by the probation officer, William Teasdale: "This next time you get mad and feel like beating someone, start butting your head against the wall. That will cool you off."

cas, left alone with his wife, began butting his head against a radiator.
Mrs. Lucas' head attracted courtroom attachés, who restrained her husband. His lacerated scalp bandaged he left the courthouse a little later, placed under probation by Police Judge Foster.

FATHER AND SON INDICTED IN ARKANSAS BANK FAILURE

J. F. and Earl Roderick of Leach-ville Charged with Accepting Deposits Although Insolvent.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BLAYTHEVILLE, Ark., April 3.— J. F. Roderick, president, and his son, Earl, cashier of the Bank of Leachville, which closed in November, were indicted here on charges of receiving deposits while knowing the bank was insolvent.

Bonds of $2000 each were signed by H. C. Dew, Dr. A. E. Robinson, M. E. Neighbors, C. L. Smith and
C. C. Counce, all of Leachville.

The case probably will be called up Monday in the Criminal Court of Judge Neill Killough of Wynne.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—James F. Fornwalt, Connellsville, Pa., formerly a Sergeant, Company B.

319th Machine Gun Battalion Eighty-second Division, received the citation for gallantry in action in 1918. During an engagement along the Aire River in France, the citation said, Sergeant Fornwalt "displayed excellent judgment and coolness when, during the absence of the platoon commander, he immediately assembled the platoon, and led the survivors forward to an advance of 180 yards under machine gun fire, with-

GEN. MOTORS' SALES DROP, CASH INCREASES gain of $51,685,541 in 1930

as Sales Fall 34.6
Per Cent.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Despite a decrease of 34.6 per cent in net sales, General Motors Corp. was able to increase its cash position by $51,685,541 during the depressed year of 1930.

The pamphlet report issued to disclosed that cash including U. S. Government and other market securities, as of Dec. 31, 1930, totalled $179,057,071, compared with $127,551,530 at the end of 1929.

Net sales, excluding intercompany interdivisional transactions, amounted to $83,375,137, as deduced from the $1,504,404,472 for net earnings, as previously reported, were $151,093,992, equal to 53% a share on the common stock compared with $248,382,268, or 49 a common share in 1929.

"A sharp reduction in volume is usually attended by a much greater contraction in profits," said Allvin P. Sloan Jr., president. "This tendency was offset to an important degree by operating economies.

Organization Stronger.

"The experience of the corporation's operating organization has broadened through the problems that have arisen and have had to be dealt with under the unusual conditions prevailing during the year under review. The organization is stronger and better equipped to meet the requirements of this experience.

"The basic exists, therefore, for a more effective capitalization of the corporation's future opportunities and the management has faith in the fact that the opportunities for the future are as great as those of the past."

Is pointing out that the corporation's liquid position had been substantially improved, the report said.

But adequate charges were made for depreciation and obsolescence, and plant and equipment mainained in effective operating condition.

Working Capital Up.

"During 1930," the report said, work was taken to reorganize and consolidate certain of the corporation's activities for the purpose of more effective and efficient operation. The cost was written off against the year's operations.

No working capital increased from $2,749,554 to $2,810,877,638 at the end of the year. Inventories were reduced to $2,274,14,082, or 15.6%

as of Dec. 31, 1930.

Total current assets as of Dec.

31 were $364,17,496, against current liabilities of $327,758,60, compared with current assets of $568,

945 and current liabilities of $315,813,63 at Dec. 31, 1929.

The report listed total assets as $115,813,659 as of Dec. 31, compared with $1,324,889,764 at the end of 1929.

BUSINESS NOTES

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Textile

World reports that March was marked by a good demand for spot and ready delivery merchandise, and by an active inquiry for future contracts. Continued diminishing of stocks is indicated by the figures of prices when spot delivery is wanted in comparison with figures possible when June 1 delivery will do. Gray goods used for fabrics for women's dresses have been the most active sellers in March; other cotton goods, such as sheetings, drills and coarser fabrics have been relatively quiet. Print stocks show that a new low was reached last week, less than two weeks' production being on hand, with unfilled orders of about two weeks' production."

Figures issued by the Wool Insti-ute show a large gain in broad activity during February, when they were operated at 58.5 per cent of maximum single shift ca-shift, a gain of 10 per cent over

January, and of 6 per cent over

February, 1930.

of America, Inc., since the organization four years ago, has now resigned effective July 1. He will return to Webster Athletes Beat St. Charles

Taking all but three firsts in a meet held yesterday afternoon on its own field, the Webster High school team ran over the St. Charles athletes, 53 to 25 1/2 points. Bill Freschi led the Robartians to victory, taking the 100 yard dash, the 220, and the shotput; second in the discus throw, besides running on the winning relay team.

The best any St. Charles man could do was two firsts made by Ludwig in the $30-yard run and the mile. Both of his wins were hard-earned, the Webster entrants leading in both races until the last half lap. Harry of Webster also totaled 10 points, including the 100 yard race, placing second in the high jump, and scoring two thirds in the shotput and discus throw.

Art DeSalm bettered Sibley's jinx record, hurling the spear 146 feet 11 inches.

The summaries:

100-YARD DASH—Won by Fresh (W.), 100-YARD, third, Bruns (St. C.); Time—10.4s.

220-YARD DASH—Won by Fresh (W.); Rogers, second; Bruns (St. C.); third, Time—23.7s.

SHARKEY TO BOX AT BROOKLYN ON JUNE 3, FOE TO BE NAMED LATER

Gray Colt, Prince d'Amour, Rated Next To Spanish Play in Winter Racing

DERBY HOPES—No. 3

By Dent McSkimming.

There are two gray horses among the Kentucky Derby entries. One of them, Annopolitan, is not likely to start but the other, Prince d'Amour, has shown sufficient class in the winter race season to justify his owner, J. Leiter of Chicago, in digging down for the starting fee.

Had Knebelkamp and Morris kept Spanish Play out of active competition during January, February and March, Prince d'Amour might have established himself as the champion of the New Orleans season. He came out of winter wraps and made his first start in five months on Jan. 10 when he finished fourth in the Rex Handicap, beaten five and one-half lengths in the six furlongs race by his nemesis, Spanish Play.

He was out of the money in two subsequent starts and then finished second to Tarzan in a sprint race on Feb. 5. This race seems to have brought the gray into his best form for he won his next try, the Fair Grounds Trial on Feb. 14, to win the Derby Trial Handicap wherein he scored his only triumph over Spanish Play.

It is off this race only that Prince d'Amour figures as a Kentucky Derby threat. Michigan Girl, Cival and Fly Guy all broke in front of him but, under superb handling by Jockey Eugene James, he came around the leaders, stole the lead, coasted down the back stretch and then held on in the home stretch to win by a neck. Spanish Play, meanwhile, suffered a lot of interference and finished second.

The win was a surprise, Prince d'Amour having won the race in the first three-quarters, but the time for the six furlongs was only 1:13 1/5, and for the mile 1:39 2/5. The race was at a mile and a sixteenth.

Later the Prince won a mile race from a mediocre field and then, on March 14, was beaten by a scant nose by Spanish Play in the Louisiana Derby.

The three said formal announcement of Cleveland's selection would be made as soon as minor differences over the rental of the Municipal Stadium and other terms could be straightened out.

The bout, 15 rounds, will be held the night of July 3. The stadium, being erected at a cost of $3,000,000, has a capacity of 100,000 which can be increased to 120,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The heavyweight boxing situation was enlivened today by the announcement that Jack Sharkey, American heavyweight champion, will make his next big fight at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, on June 3 under the promotion of James J. Johnston.

Sharkey's opponent, according to Johnston, will be chosen from Primo Carnera, Tommy Loughran, Mickey Walker or Vicente Campolo. Final selection will not be made until April 15.

This announcement is Sharkey's opening gun in his battle to gain nation-wide recognition over Max Schmeling, to whom he lost on a foul here last summer as heavy-weight champion. The outcome of the June 3 fight here may be recognized as champion by the New York State Athletic Commission, which stripped Schmeling of his crown because of his refusal to meet Sharkey again.

Sharkey Prefers Carnera. Sharkey would like to take on Primo Carnera as his first opponent, but the giant Italian is under suspension here. So is Walker, but the New York commission has stated it will reinstate him if he will relinquish the middleweight championship. Walker, it is understood, would readily comply with this request in order to get crack at Sharkey.

Both Loughran and Campolo are prepared to sever relations with Madison Square Garden to land a bout with Sharkey.

Cahill, Soccer Organizer, Here

Soccer's official missionary, Thomas W. Cahill, is in St. Louis today after a visit into the hinterland where he has spent the past month in enlightening the natives regarding the merits of what he calls the "greatest game on earth." Cahill is the one-man promotion department of the United States Football Association, appointed by President Armstrong Patterson to the task of spreading soccer propaganda in those sections of the United States where the game is not played. His attention has been particularly directed to encouraging playground, school and public park competition. His recent tour covered the South, including portions of Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida and Texas.

Cahill will remain in St. Louis until Monday and will attend the benefit soccer program at Fairground Park Sunday, when he will kick off the ball in the feature game between all-star teams of North and South St. Louis.

W. E. Barker, former president of the St. Louis Soccer League, departed at noon for New York, where he will attend the meetings of the national final series between the Fall River and the Chicago Bricklayers at the Polo Grounds Sunday. Barker will also attend a meeting of the National Commission, of which he is a member.

RHYNE, SOX SHORTSTOP, NOT BADLY INJURED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3.—An x-ray examination completed here today revealed that Hal Rhyne, Boston Red Sox shortstop, suffered only a bad bruise when he was struck on the head by a batted ball here yesterday.

Phil Troy, secretary of the club, announced the findings of the examination and said Rhyne would accompany the Red Sox to Columbus, O., today.

Rhyne was rendered unconscious in practice when a ball batted by Ed Walsh Jr., Louisville pitcher, struck him. At first it was believed his skull was fractured.

Kirkwood Wins Over Clayton in Dual Track Meet

Kirkwood's track team defeated Clayton by an overwhelming margin yesterday afternoon on the Kirkwood field, scoring 71 1/2 points in the senior division to Clayton's 34 1/2, and 72 in the juniors to 25. Paul Berger, weight man of the Kirkwood team, took three firsts and a second in the field events, to score 13 points.

Nancy Strickland was the only Clayton marksman to score more than one point, winning the 800-yard and the mile. Dave Ruhl and Patterson of Kirkwood were the outstanding juniors, Ruhl taking three firsts and running on the relay team, and Patterson two firsts, two seconds and on the relay team. Ruhl's throw of 141 feet 8 inches in the javelin was very good. It was the first meet Ruhl had participated in.

ALLISON MEETS HALL IN MID-PACIFIC TENNIS TOURNAMENT FINAL

HONOLULU, April 3.—Wilmer Allison, Texas tennis star, and J. Gilbert Hall, New Jersey racketsman, opposed each other in the final of the Mid-Pacific invitation tennis tournament singles here to-day.

The Japanese team of Osamu Akitomo and Toko Kuwabara will play Allison and Hall in the doubles final tomorrow.

Allison and Hall were extended to four sets in defeating the Hoogs brothers, Richard and Robert, in their bracket of the doubles semi-final.

YALE BEATS HARVARD FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE INDOOR POLO TITLE

NEW YORK, April 3.—A great Yale polo team, contemptuous of a six-goal handicap, rode over Harvard, 10 to 7, last night to win the 1931 intercollegiate indoor title. The victory gave Yale its fifth championship in the nine years the event has been contested.

Allison and Hall were extended to four sets in defeating the Hoogs brothers, Richard and Robert, in their bracket of the doubles semi-final.

The score was 3-0, 6-2, 6-1, 9-7.

GAR WOOD'S NEW SPEEDBOAT MARK BROKEN BY DON

By the Associated Press.

Buenos Aires, April 3.—A new world speed boat record was hailed here today—103.49 statute miles per hour, made by Kaye Don, British racer, in Miss England II on the surface of the muddy, swollen Paraná River yesterday afternoon.

The mark, which will be certified to the International Racing Association at Brussels by the Argentine Yacht Club, which supervised the timing, beats the record of 102.56 miles per hour set recently by the American, Gar Wood, at Miami Beach.

Don, happy at success in the venture which already has been attended by failure in two attempts due to motor troubles, packed up his boat and headed a ship at midnight for England. He did not await a banquet which was planned for him here.

Don proceeded to the course, a lonely stretch of the Paraná near its confluence with the La Plata, early yesterday and once yesterday morning touched 100 miles an hour. He said, "In the afternoon he proceeded back up the river and turning suddenly, darted off down the course.

He steered according to two Argentine gunboats which were stationed at either end of the route, and was timed by automatic electric chronometer devices with three members of the yacht club at either end of the course as officials. The course previously had been cleaned some, but by racing boats, which was far from being as clean as might have been wished.

Don's efforts were made in connection with the British trade exposition, which is in progress here. The Miss England II is the same boat in which Major H. O. D. Seagrave met his death.

MAUREEN ORCUTT TO PLAY MISS VAN WIE IN PINEHURST FINAL

By the Associated Press.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 3.—Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, N. J., and Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, today fought their way through to the final of the North and South women's golf tournament. Miss Orcutt defeated Mrs. G. H. Hill of Kansas City, four and two in one semifinal match while Miss Van Wie beat Jane Hobson, Nyack, N. Y., three and two in the second.

COX, COMEDY ARTIST, TO APPEAR ON NEXT COLISEUM MAT SHOW

A rich brand of comedy for the wrestling show next Wednesday night, featuring Jimmy Londos and Pat O'Shocker, was assured with the announcement that Joe Cox, the Kansas City comedy artist, would appear against Ernie Dusek, young brother of Rudy.

Cox, a few weeks ago bowed over the customers with his antics against Frank Brunowicz, and some spectators grew highly excited when he tried to fight his opponent while standing in the aisles. The Commissioner says Cox has promised to "hold his temper" on this visit; hence he permitted Promotor Tom Pack to bring Cox back.

The schedule for the East Side team is as follows:

April 2, Rosecrans (St. Louis), there. April 14, Granite City, there. April 20, Webster Groves, there. April 24, Bellfontaine (St. Louis), there. April 28, Soldan (St. Louis), there. May 12, Webster Groves, there. May 15, Bellfontaine, there. May 16, Soldan, there.

CLAYTON JUNIORS DEFEAT SOLDAN, BUT LATTER WINS MEET

In a junior division track and field meet held yesterday afternoon at the Public Schools Stadium, Cleveland High defeated Soldan, 181 to 180, 2.33 to 3.10.

Clayton, in the senior division competition, its senior team had run up a 42-point lead in the senior division competition.

MINT JELLY FOR COLD LAMB

This Pretty Green Condiment Is Readily Made.

Mint jelly, in many instances, takes the place of mint sauce which in former times always accompanied roast lamb.

This piquant jelly is readily made with one tablespoon gelatine, one cup sugar, one-half cup cold water, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains of paprika, one cup vinegar, one cup finely chopped mint leaves, fresh or dried, and green coloring.

Soak gelatine in cold water about five minutes and dissolve in syrup made by boiling sugar and vinegar five minutes.

Add salt and paprika, and color green; then add mint leaves. Let stand five minutes, strain into wet molds and chill.

Mint extract may be used instead of leaves.

Mint Sherbet.

Make same as lemon ice, adding four tablespoons bruised mint leaves to the boiling syrup.

Strain and freeze. A delicious accompaniment to hot or cold lamb.

SAUSAGE PANCAKES

This Recipe Probably Originated

in New England.

Various sections of this country feature dishes similar to pancakes.

This recipe for sausage pancakes suggests the New England states where this savory combination is popular with home cooks. Make the delicacy as follows:

One pound sausage meat, one cup sour milk, four eggs, one-half teaspoon soda, one tablespoon warm water, one and one-half cups flour, two tablespoons butter, melted.

Beat eggs well, add milk and mix thoroughly with sausage meat. Dissolve soda in tablespoon of warm water and add to mixture. Beat in flour, a little at a time, until a thin batter is formed. Add mint leaves, drop by spoonfuls on hot griddle and brown well on both sides.

A Spring Tonic.

Rhubarb makes a refreshing drink. Pour equal parts of tea and rhubarb juice into a glass of crushed ice containing one tablespoon lemon flavored syrup. Lemon juice, not extract, is to be used to flavor the syrup.

French Fried Cauliflower.
Separate the section of the cauliflower and dip in seasoned flour on unglazed paper.

then into beaten egg and then into crumbs. Fry in deep fat and drain flower and dip in seasoned flour.

HEALTH SALAD

Every ingredient in this delicious salad is wonderfully nutritious —especially the pineapple which is rich in those important health-giving vitamins A, B, and C. It lends nourishment to any dish, any menu. Crisp in ice water for an hour 2 cups finely shredded cabbage and 3/4 cup thinly sliced celery. Drain, dry in a towel, and add 1/2 cup diced apple with the red skin on and 1/4 cup raisins. Pile lightly in center of nests of lettuce. Drain a 1 lb.
14 oz. can DOLE 1 Tidbits and arrange these evenly cut, delicious little golden morsels in the form of a border around base of cabbage. (The successful salad, of course, depends as much on its appearance as anything else; so naturally DOLE 1 Tidbits are best suited to this recipe.) Garnish with green pepper rings and strips of pimento. Serve with either cream, mayonnaise or French dressing.
Serves 6.

delicious fruit.

Once you've tried these two new pineapple recipes, you'll understand why the DOLE grade-marks are so often the topic of conversation, these days, when menu planning is discussed.

Nature gives different grades of pineapple. James D. Dole marks them—so you can choose the grade of pineapple best suited to your recipe—and know when you buy exactly what grade you're getting. And DOLE has a unique way of grade-marking. He stamps the name DOLE right in the top of the can—and beneath that name the number 1, or 2, or 3. So look for the DOLE grade-mark when next you buy Canned Hawaiian Pineapple. (Most women do, these days.)

Pineapple Pie—a constant favorite.
Bake it or buy it.

PINEAPPLE ICE CREAM LOAF

Here's only one of the delicious desserts you can make with pineapple, this most versatile of fruits. For puddings, for pies, or served right from the can, it's always a treat. Bring to boiling 1 cup pineapple syrup with 1/2 cup sugar. Color green. Add 6 slices DOLE 2 Pineapple and simmer until slices are nicely colored and syrup is thick. Chill. Place on platter a brick (1 quart) of vanilla ice cream. Lay 2 slices of the green pineapple on top; cut the rest in halves and stand up around base of the brick. Fill holes of pineapple with red cherries. Serves 6 to 8. You can see for yourself that since the pineapple is to be colored, perfectly matched DOLE 1 Slices are not a necessity. Here's a chance to be economical with DOLE 2 Slices. Use the 1 lb. 14 oz. can.
(You'll see the weight marked on the label.)

USED IN FOOD DECORATION

Very Simple to Prepare and Delectable to Look at and Eat.

All types of these products, flavored and unflavored, colored and uncolored, may be used for embellishing foods to make them more appealing to the eye and the taste. Here are several examples:

Tiny flower pots may be lined with waxed paper and filled with jelly, ice cream or a sponge. Sprinkle top with sweetened cocoa and insert a real or an artificial flower.

Duck Pond.

Make an orange jelly and mold in large shallow cups or in saucers. Turn out on a plate to form the water on which a cookie or toy duck appears to float. Around the "pond" have ice cream or whipped cream. Green, sliced jelly may represent grass.

Goldfish.

BRAISED BREAST OF LAMB

A Savory Service of Meat When Properly Prepared.

Have a four-pound piece of breast of lamb boned and rolled. Sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper and brown in three tablespoons butter.

When browned on all sides, remove from the pan and drain off most of the fat. Put one-half cup sliced onions, one-half cup sliced turnips in the sauce pan, add one cup diced carrot, one-half cup diced turnips in the sauce pan, add one cup boiling water and one teaspoon salt. Place the meat on top of the vegetables, cover closely and simmer for two and one-half hours or until the meat is tender.

Remove to a hot platter, surround with the vegetables and serve with brown gravy made from the liquid remaining in the pan thickened with flour and well seasoned.

Eggs.

Make Easter eggs by dipping hard-cooked eggs from which shells have been removed in mayonnaise to which a little liquid gelatin has been added to make it firm. Then decorate with cut pimento, pickles or olives to form funny faces.

Duck Pond.

Make an orange jelly and mold in large shallow cups or in saucers. Turn out on a plate to form the water on which a cookie or toy duck appears to float. Around the "pond" have ice cream or whipped cream. Green, sliced jelly may represent grass.

Goldfish.

Mold lemon jelly in glass sherbet

A Sometimes Substitute. In using syrup instead of sugar in cake, one cup of syrup will take the place of one cup of sugar and one-fourth cup of liquid. In almost any cake recipe, syrup may be used for half the sugar.

RECIPES FOR DISHES
IN WEEK'S MENUS

Foods Which Will Be Useful in Providing Variety in Spring Meals.

Eggs a la King combine hard boiled eggs with canned pimento, shredded green pepper, sliced fresh or canned mushrooms, white sauce and a seasoning of lemon juice, salt, pepper and paprika. Slice the eggs and add to the sauce with the seasonings. Sauté the pimento, pepper and mushrooms in a little butter, add to the sauce and serve on toast or in patty shells. One cup of sauce, made as for Welsh rarebit described below, requires four eggs, one tablespoon each of pepper and pimento and four small mushrooms.

Fried Frog Legs.

Trim and clean the frog legs, split them in half, salt and pepper, roll in crumbs, egg and crumbs again, and fry in deep hot fat, about the minutes being required. Remove from fat, drain and serve with tartar sauce on hot platter, garnished with parsley.

Welsh Rarebit.

A quickly prepared Welsh rarebit, not onion will not separate, is made by adding one cup grated or finely cut cheese to one cup thick, well-seasoned white sauce. Make the sauce from three tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour and one cup milk. Season with one-half teaspoon Worcester-shire sauce, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon prepared mustard and one-fourth teaspoon paprika. Stir in the cheese when the sauce has thickened and cook just long enough to melt the cheese. If necessary it may be kept warm over hot water.

Jellied Vegetable Salad.

Soak two tablespoons gelatin in one-fourth cup cold water for five minutes, then dissolve in one-half cup boiling water. Cool and add one and one-half cups canned tomato juice, one tablespoon lemon juice, one tablespoon sugar, one teaspoon salt and one teaspoon grated onion. Next stir in one-half cup finely diced celery, one cup shredded cabbage, one tablespoon shredded green pepper and one cup canned peas. Pour into individual molds and set aside to chill. Turn out on lettuce or watercress and serve with mayonnaise. Garnish with a slice of hard-boiled egg.

Chocolate Ice Box Cake.

With one-half pint heavy cream until stiff and sweeten it with three tablespoons powdered sugar. Have ready 15 large chocolate wafers and spread them with a generous layer of the cream, piling one wafer on top of the other. Place lengthwise in a pan or on a platter and chill in the ice box overnight or for at least six hours. Cut diagonally in slices for serving and garnish with a spoonful of whipped cream and a red cherry.

Escaloped Sea Food.

This requires for four people, one-half pound scallops, one dozen small oysters and one pound fresh shrimp or a can of wet pack shrimp. Pour boiling water over the scallops and let simmer for five minutes, then drain. Boil fresh shrimp for 10 minutes in one quart boiling water, one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon cayenne pepper. Drain, cool and remove shells. Canned shrimp need to be drained and the little black vein that runs along the top removed. Pick over the oysters to be sure they contain no bits of shell. Melt three tablespoons butter in a saucepan, add four tablespoons flour and when well blended stir in one and three-fourths cups milk. Stir over a slow fire until thickened and smooth, add two tablespoons chopped parsley, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-half teaspoon Worcester-shire sauce, the oysters, shrimp and scallops. Season to taste with salt and pepper and pour into a buttered baking dish. Cover with a layer of buttered bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven—450 degrees—for 10 minutes or until the crumbs are hot and the mixture bubbling. Serve hot.

Cold Meat Platter.

Arrange in attractive order on a large platter slices of boiled ham, alternating with slices of cold chicken or cold roast beef. Across each end of the platter place thinly sliced cheese, with halved stuffed eggs at intervals between the meat slices. Garnish with small tomatoes stuffed with potato salad arranged about the edge of the platter on lettuce leaves. Serve with rye bread and Switzerland cheese sandwiches, and gingerale.

FLUFFY BANANA CAKE WITH WHIPPED CREAM TOPPING

An Attractive Sweet for the Last Course of a Light Formal Luncheon.

Banana cake is a rich pastry which may be served as a dessert. A delicious cake of this type may be made with one-half cup shortening, one and one-half cups sugar, two eggs, two and one-fourth cups cake flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder, three-fourths teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup sour milk, one cup mashed bananas, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup cream, whipped and sweetened, and two bananas sliced.

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually. Add the well beaten eggs. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together and add alternately with the sour milk and bananas which have been mashed through a sieve. Add flavoring.

Pour into greased and floured layer cake pan and bake. When layers are cold, cut together with whipped cream and sliced bananas for filling and spread whipped cream over top of cake. Lay slices of banana over top of cream.

Savory Sauce for Cold Meat.

Mix together one teaspoon Worcester sauce, one-quarter cup vinegar, one-half teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, one teaspoon prepared mustard, one-third cup salad oil, one tablespoon minced parsley, one tablespoon chopped pimento and one finely chopped hard boiled egg. Beat with a fork until well blended and serve with sliced cold beef, veal or lamb.

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually. Add the well beaten eggs. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together and add alternately with the sour milk and bananas which have been mashed through a sieve. Add flavoring.

EASTER DINNERS ARE SPRINGTIME FEASTS

Awakened Nature Provides Fresh Fruits and Vegetables for the Menu.

The Easter dinner menu, whether for a company meal or for the family dinner, must be dressed up a bit to correspond with the gay frocks and new spring suits of the assembled guests.

At the same time, the clever hostess will plan to have a simple meal easy to prepare, for the day will lose much of its meaning for the home cook if she spends the greater part of it in the kitchen.

The decorations for the table may be simple, but the colors which are just now making their appearance. Yellow is one of the color schemes which is most effective for the Easter table. It is typical of brightness and sunshine and blends nicely with white and the pastel shades which are featured in the spring blossoms.

If Easter lilies are desired as a table decoration, they may be placed at each of the four corners of the table, connected by similar vines which may run across the center, or they may be laid flat on the cloth in some central design.

At this season of the year, hydrangeas are at their best and with their pink, white, pinks and orchids make a lovely table decoration.

Small bunnies, chickens, ducks and colorful Easter eggs are most vividly pictured as symbols of the day.

Besides Easter candy boxes, colorful favors made from candied Easter eggs and gum drops combined with a bit of crepe paper and ribbon may be used to decorate the Easter table. Or varicolored paper eggs filled with small egg candies, a tiny chick or duckling may be used as favors.

Easter Dinner Menu:
Strawberry cocktail
Roast leg of lamb Mint sauce
Buttered Creme au naturel Oleary Olives
Butterflied salted almonds
Frischette ice Small Milk
Coffee

Mode of Procedure:
Much of this dinner may be prepared early on Easter morning. The leg of lamb may be put into the oven early. The mint sauce, mixed and ready for the addition of the minced mint. The new peas hulled and the broccolini prepared for the saucepan. The new potatoes may be scraped, cut into small halves and the vegetable cutter and placed in a vessel of cold water to remain until time to cook.

The rolls purchased at the grocery store, may be wrapped in a fresh, clean cloth, all ready to be warmed in the oven before serving. If the ice is to be a home product, it may be made early to allow time for freezing in the automatic refrigerator or in the ice cream freezer.

The small cakes may be made the day before the feast and set away for the frosting to harden. The necessary amounts of coffee and tea may be put in the percolator and the tea pot all ready for the boiling water.

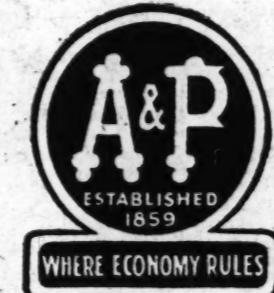

Recipes:

Directions for preparing many of the dishes included in the above menu may be found under separate heads in various columns of the Home Economics Department.

The butterfly salad is made with six slices of canned pineapple, six stalks canned asparagus, 12 stuffed olives, 12 thin two-inch strips of pimento, one cup mayonnaise and lettuce.

Arrange the lettuce leaves on salad plates. Cut the slices of pineapple in halves and arrange to represent the wings of a butterfly, using a stalk of asparagus for the body. Place one stuffed olive at one end of the asparagus to serve as the head. Cut the other for each serving into thin slices. Arrange in symmetrical fashion on the pineapple to represent the markings of the butterfly wings. Arrange the thin strips of pimento as feelers. Serve with the mayonnaise.

Serve with the mayonnaise.

COCONUT COOKIES

Peanut Butter Gives These Cakes a Delicious Flavor. Two cups flour; two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt; one-fourth cup butter or other shortening, one-fourth cup peanut butter, one cup sugar, one egg, one-half cup milk, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one cup coconut. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream the shortening and peanut butter together, add sugar gradually, then the well-beaten egg. Add flour mixture and milk alternately to this mixture. Add flavoring and coconut, reserving three tablespoons of coconut to sprinkle over the top of cookies before baking. Drop by teaspoonfuls on well-oiled baking sheet. Bake 12 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit). Cover with thin slices of bread and toast on both sides.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES ARE AGAIN IN ORDER

Spring Brings With It a Spirit of Happiness, Gayety and Rejuvenation.

After Easter Sunday comes another season of entertaining. The pale of Lent is lifted on Easter Saturday and there is everywhere a spirit of gayety and happiness. Many hostesses select Easter week for the start of their social activities which will carry on through the spring and early summer until families are off on their annual vacations.

An Easter week luncheon can be made a very effective affair and the hostess with food imagination has plenty of opportunity to give it a wide range of play.

Effective Decorations. Originality in decorations as well as in the selection and preparation of refreshments should be the aim of every hostess. By originality one does not mean elaborateness. Exquisite simplicity in linens, silver, china, flower arrangement and menu will give an atmosphere of restfulness and charm.

If fresh flowers are barred because of their cost, substitute small ferns in shallow bowls, home-made Japanese gardens, candles, or amusing and exquisite compotes filled with colorful candies or fruits.

Unshaded candles always give a cheerful glow to a table and give a "party" atmosphere to even the plainest room. Every-day foods seem to have more flavor when attractively garnished and served in a candle-lighted room.

This is only a few suggestions that will catalog housewife's most original hostess.

Easter Luncheon Menu.

An appropriate menu for an Easter week luncheon follows:

Strawberries dipped in Fondant. Broiled Chicken on toast points. New Potatoes. Tomato Butter. Duchess Potato Balls. Parsley Butter. Mashed Potatoes. Celery.

Olives. Small Hot Rolls.

Chocolate Ice Cream with Mint Sauce. Small Cakes. Celery.

Small Nuts. Coffee. Tea. Salted Nuts. Milk.

Other Suggestions.

If preferred chicken à la King may be substituted for the broilers. As a matter of fact, broilers are not extremely expensive this year and half a broiler is sufficient for one service, particularly if the fowl is placed on a thin slice of broiled ham. The ready boiled ham which may be purchased at the grocery shop is suitable for this service. Have the ham sliced in large, thin slices. Brown the ham on the frying pan and then place a slice of ham under each broiled half chicken.

The other articles on the menu are readily prepared in the home kitchen. Strawberries for the first course are simply large fresh berries coated with fondant. A plain frosting may be substituted with good effect or the berries may be dipped in sugar or they may be served on a plate around a mound of powdered sugar. In this case, the stems should be left on the berries.

SEALED - that no hands may touch this rich, golden mayonnaise!

Stored up sunshine in a glistening jar - a recipe that's never been changed since it first was made by a mother of long ago. A flavor your appetite will remember - so homey, so extra good!

To all this has been added a seal of protection on each jar of Ivanhoe. This golden mayonnaise reaches you just as pure as when we seal it at our kitchens. This modern safeguard means absolute cleanliness.

Ask your grocer for Ivanhoe. Break the seal, and heap its rich and creamy goodness on a salad tonight. Quarts, pints, half-pints, and 3/4 oz. jars.

WHAT MAKES IT TAYSTEE?

We score each loaf of soft, warm dough and bake it from HEART to CRUST

The rounded top of each plump Taystee loaf is scored with a sharp knife, before it goes into Taystee humidified ovens. "Knife-cutting" makes it possible for these famous ovens to bake the heart of this delicious loaf thoroughly, before the crust turns to a milk-rich, golden brown.

But "knife-cutting" alone wouldn't make Taystee so good. Matured Taystee flour and double quantities of pure, pasteurized milk add flavor and wholesomeness. . . . Careful mixing of all pure ingredients insures uniform texture and taste. . . . Two slow raisings make Taystee light, tender and digestible.

Taystee Process is careful and complete. That's why Taystee Bread is so delicious and nourishing. It's like the farm-kitchen variety that your country aunt used to bake. So irresistible that a heap of it would make a satisfying, gratifying meal.

Get Taystee from your dealer. He has it conveniently ready-sliced (or plain if you prefer). Try it toasted . . . that's a good test. See how it browns evenly to a golden-goodness.

STEPS IN THE EXCLUSIVE TAYSTEE PROCESS THAT "MAKE IT TAYSTEE"

- 1 Double quantity of rich milk-solids.
- 2 Only premium quality fresh pasteurized milk is used.
- 3 Only one-fifth of all the flour made passes Taystee tests.
- 4 Top of each loaf is knife-cut for thorough baking.
- 5 Baked in moist heat . . . not dried out.
- 6 Takes longer and costs more to make.
- 7 Unvarying process insures uniform quality.
- 8 Wheaty flavor unlike any other bread.

SERVE SPRING LAMB
FOR EASTER DINNER

This Delicacy Is Both Plentiful and Moderately Priced This Season.

Spring lamb, considered by many epicures the choicest and most delicate of meats, is always set aside as the Easter main dish, just as turkey is dedicated to Thanksgiving day and goose to the Christmas feast.

Lamb is considered one of the most healthful meats. This is borne out by the fact that fewer lambs are condemned under Government inspection than any other class of meat animals.

Lamb is easily digested, it also is palatable and nutritious and so for these "characteristics" it has reached a decidedly prominent place in the diet of the sick and convalescent, first in the form of broths, then later in the more solid diets the meat itself is served.

The meat itself is covered by a fair covering of white fat, the meat or flesh is a light grayish pink and the bones light pink, showing red in places. The meat cuts are all small, showing an immature animal.

The fell is the thin, papery outer covering on the lamb carcass. Although recipes frequently advise that it be removed before cooking, it is now believed, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, that flavor is not affected by the fell. Leg of lamb keeps its shape better if cooked with the fell, but shoulder, saddle and chops are improved by its removal. Unless a roast from which the fell has been removed is rubbed well with flavor, it will require longer to cook than a piece with the fell undisturbed.

Analyzing sheep meat, we find less water and more fat than in some other meats, "an essentially equal amount of digestible protein" and very little refuse.

Lamb cuts come in approximately handy sized cuts—a leg or shoulder makes an excellent roast for the average sized family.

Serve All Cuts.

There are many ways to serve lamb besides just the leg of lamb or chops. These proverbial cuts may now be replaced by others that are far less expensive and still highly appealing. For instance, boned rolled shoulder, lamb neck steaks, shoulder pot roast, flanked kidney chops, casserole of lamb shank, stuffed lamb's heart, or boiled lamb's tongue.

The meat should be unwrapped and wiped with a damp cloth upon reaching the home kitchen. It should be placed on a clean platter and set in the coldest part of the refrigerator ready for cooking.

Roast Leg of Lamb.

A leg of lamb is the basis of a delicious dinner. Purchase as large a leg as possible, as the larger the leg the more advantageously it can be carved. Then lamb leftovers make tasty second day dishes. Bake the roast until well done. Make gravy or else serve with mint sauce or else a mint jelly.

Baked Shoulder of Lamb.

Place rolled shoulder in a roasting pan. Rub drippings or lay slices of bacon over top. Sprinkle with one teaspoon salt and one-quarter teaspoon pepper, dredge with flour and brown quickly in a hot oven, 525 degrees F., for 20 minutes. Pour half a cup of hot water over the meat, adjust the cover of the roaster closely and cook, allowing 25 minutes to each pound in a 325-degree F. oven. No basting will be required. Serve with sauce made by heating half a cup of chopped pickle of any sort with the gravy in the roaster.

Put about one and a half pounds of lamb through the food chopper twice. Season with salt and pepper and one-fourth teaspoonful of Summer savory, one egg yolk, well beaten, and two tablespoons of cream. Mix well and make into oblong cakes. Dredge with flour which has a little paprika in it, and brown the cakes in a hot pan, using as little butter as possible. Put the meat in the oven to finish cooking while fixing the garnish of creamed peas.

Frozen Fruit Punch

Easily Prepared Fresh Fruit Desserts Are Great Favorites.

Icy cold sweets, now that the warmer weather is due, will be greatly in favor for company menus. This frozen fruit punch will be found very delicious.

To make it, take two cups sugar, one and one-half cups water, one and one-half cups orange juice, one-half cup lemon juice and two cups orange juice.

Boil sugar, water and mint together for five minutes. Chill, add remaining ingredients, strain and freeze.

Boston Brown Bread.

Sift together three-quarters cup corn meal, three-quarters cup white flour, three-quarters cup graham flour, one teaspoon salt. Add one cup sour milk with one and one-half teaspoons soda. Add one-half cup sorghum, one-half cup sweet milk or water, and one cup seeded raisins in the flour mixture. Steam two hours in small greased cans. Dry in oven 10 minutes.

GRAPE JUICE SALAD

Whole Strawberries May Be Molded Into This Jelly.

A very dainty grape juice salad will fit into a guest meal menu is made with two cups grape juice, two tablespoons gelatin, one-half cup cold water, one cup boiling water, two tablespoons lemon juice, three-fourths cup sugar, few grains salt and two cups fruit, fresh or canned may be used.

Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes; dissolve in boiling water, add salt, sugar and fruit juice.

When jelly begins to stiffen, stir prepared mixture through, using canned pineapple, bananas and grapes cut in small pieces and drained of juice. Any fruit, fresh or canned, may be used.

Turn into small wet molds. When firm, unmold in nests of lettuce leaves and garnish with mayonnaise.

Utilize Leftover Foods.

Low-cost meals must be provided, more attention and care must be given to the planning as well as to the preparation of food, but it is entirely possible to provide excellent meals in point of flavor, quantity, appearance and nutritive value at a moderate cost. The use of leftovers is a big item in planning such meals, and it is up to the cook to use them in such a way that the family does not feel it is eating another dose of yesterday's dinner.

A Good Substitute.

A large piece of white oil cloth is a good substitute for a pastry board on which to roll cookies and biscuits. Flour well before turning the mixture to be rolled onto the cloth.

Apple Pancakes.

Take one egg, one cup flour, one cup cooked apples put through a sieve, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon baking soda, mixed in the cooked apples, one teaspoon baking powder, one tablespoon melted butter, one-half cup sweet milk. Beat egg well, add apple mixture, beat well, add dry ingredients and stir into the egg mixture. Add the milk and beat well. Add the melted butter and stir mixture well. Cook pancake mixture on hot griddle. Butter pancakes, sprinkle with powdered sugar and roll. Serve piping hot.

SEASONAL MEATS FOR THE SUNDAY DINNER

A Roast of Beef or of Veal or a Baked Ham Is an Economical Buy.

The price of meat has not been low in years as it is now, when prime ribs of beef or a leg of veal can be bought at the rate of 40 minutes.

Approximately a dollar and a half for a roast that will serve a family of four for two good meals and provide soup stock from the bones.

Such a roast is tempting served with pan browned new potatoes. Allow 30 minutes to the pound to roast the meat well done or 15 to 20 minutes to the pound if it is liked rare. Have the oven very hot at first—525 degrees—and as soon as the meat has seared, reduce the temperature and continue cooking at 350 degrees. Baste frequently and roast the meat in an open pan to have the best flavor. Scrape new potatoes and bake them around the meat allowing 40 minutes to cook them.

Veal Roast.

Veal is a suitable meat for company meals. A roast off the leg or a shoulder of veal are the favorite cuts for roasting or baking. The shoulder may be boned and the meat rolled or the cavity made by the removal of the bone may be filled with a bread dressing or stuffing and the dish served with a rich brown gravy.

Baked veal cutlets also make a tempting main dish for a dinner. In preparing cutlets cut the meat in pieces appropriate for serving. Dip them in beaten egg and then in cracker or bread crumbs. A second dipping in crumbs is advised. The meat is fried in deep fat.

Baked Ham.

Wash and scrub ham in warm water, soak over night. Drain and put on to boil with cold water enough to cover; boil slowly four to five hours or until tender. Cool in water in which it was boiled; remove skin carefully; cover with one cup brown sugar, one cup flour and one-half teaspoon pepper; add two cups cold water. Turn in very low oven for 60 minutes, baste often. When brown on both sides add one cup cider or one-half cup vinegar and thicken gravy with two tablespoons flour.

IMMUNIZING TESTS IN INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Washington U. Doctor Describes Successful Experiments Made on Monkeys.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., April 3.—Search for a method of making human beings resistant to the infantile paralysis virus, which usually kills or seriously cripples, has led St. Louis scientists to discover a means of immunizing monkeys against the disease.

The method has been developed in the laboratories of the Washington University Medical School and was described by Dr. William B. Brebner of the school at the opening sessions yesterday of the annual convention of the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists.

The monkeys are immunized by the injection into the spleen of live paralytic or poliomyelitis bacteria, and then exposed to the poliomyelitis infection. For 21 days the monkeys, 11 in number, were observed, and their temperatures charted, but no symptoms of paralysis were manifested, Dr. Brebner said.

He told how he conceived the idea of injecting the bacteria into the spleen through the study of the progress the disease makes in the body. He found that it often infects the spleen without spreading to the rest of the body, and that infection in the spleen makes the rest of the body resistant. In the injections care must be taken, he said, not to infect other parts of the body.

"We don't know how far we can go in these experiments or what practical value they may have," Dr. Brebner said. "Each injection requires a spinal operation, and that hardly could be given com-mon application."

Trachoma Infection.

Secondary infections in trachoma more serious than that produced by the primary microbe which was isolated by the famous Japanese scientist, Noguchi, were described by Dr. P. K. Oltizky, associate at the Rockefeller Foundation at New York. The infections correspond to the stages of the eye disease, Dr. Oltizky said.

MICHIGAN ATTORNEY-GENERAL TO AID BURKE PROSECUTOR

Laying Plans for "Strong Case," Despite Reports of Intended Guilty Plea.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 3.—Attorney-General Paul W. Voorhees came here yesterday to confer with Wilbur H. Cunningham, County Prosecutor, and offer him State aid in the prosecution of Fred Burke for the killing of Patrolman Charles Skelly in December, 1929.

Voorhees and Cunningham, despite indications that Burke was plied guilty, are laying plans for what they describe as a "strong case."

The Attorney-General, introducing himself as a former Wayne County prosecutor, visited Burke's cell. The gunman, he said, readily admitted his conviction in Detroit in 1919 in a mail fraud case. Voorhees said he did not attempt to discuss the present case with Burke.

COTTON TEXTILES

SHOWING A GAIN

Industry Grimly Going About Setting Its House in Order—New Uses for Product.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Old King Cotton, rather grimly, is going about setting his house in order. In 1921, in another business depression, he beat other industries in that job—and now, 10 years later, he seems to be doing the same thing. But the keynote is caution.

A production in February of 212,168,000 yards of staple, medium and coarse goods (the figure being based on the Cotton Textile Institute's returns from about 70 per cent of the industry) is less than the demand. The average weekly production for February was $3,042,000, more than any month since last May. February sales of $22,691,000 were greater than in any month since last October.

Stocks were only $19,328,000

the least in several years in the face of greater demand. Unfilled February orders were 395,802,000 yards, the highest since December, 1932. And the Institute's tentative March figures show a definite continuing trend.

Night work by women has been eliminated in 83 per cent of the mills. This means a much smaller number of mills operating at night, since men's fingers are clumsy at the spindles, and it would be expensive to train them. Fewer hours of work mean less danger of overproduction.

Cotton men also are working hard to find new uses for the product. Large sheets of it are placed between the layers of cement on paved roads so that one layer may be removed without damaging the other. There are new cotton toys, child dresses and bags for potatoes, oranges and vegetables. Throughout the South the people are having carnivals encouraging the research for these new uses.

George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, says the institute has spent $250,000 promoting cotton. He believes the industry has shown a remarkable gain, but that it's still too early for a general and definite statement.

He thinks cotton mills will be very careful to produce no more than the consumer needs; that the mills have thoroughly learned the fallacy of overproduction.

The textile industry accounts for about 24 per cent of the wage earners; 20 per cent of the wages; and 16 per cent of the value of products. If cotton's movements are continued, it is probable that other textiles will follow more definitely than at present, with a decisive effect on all American industry.

BILLS TO CONSERVE

GAME IN ILLINOIS

Measures to Protect Ducks and Fish Meet No Opposition So Far in Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 3.—Several bills seeking to conserve game in Illinois have been introduced in the State Legislature, and seemingly some, possibly all of them, will be passed. The bill which has attracted most attention, House Bill 497, introduced by Representative Elbert Waller of Tamaroa, provides that game birds, particularly ducks, may be killed within one-eighth of a mile of a natural or created feeding ground. It is charged by those backing the bill that wild ducks are being baited along the Illinois River and by that means are killed in great numbers. While the bill is still in committee, it is expected to be reported within a few days.

The movement represented by the bill is led by Waller and Representative Truman A. Snell of Coalville. Up to this time no opposition has appeared in either House.

Another bill introduced by State Senator Mason provides that fishing in fish preserves be limited to one hook and line only.

Chicago and Illinois Ask U. S. Supreme Court to Interpret Ruling.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Chicago, the Illinois Commerce Commission and Attorney General Carlstrom of Illinois have appealed to the Supreme Court to interpret its recent decision in the controversy with the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. over certain telephone rates in Chicago. There also is pending in the court a petition seeking to bring mandamus proceedings against the three-judge Federal Court at Chicago to compel it to change its interpretation of the decision.

In both proceedings, Chicago, the commission and the Attorney-General took the position that under the Supreme Court decision the suit brought by the company to restrain the order of the commission reducing rates should be dismissed, that the injunction prohibiting the enforcement of the reduced rates should be set aside and that the company should be required to refund to subscribers $15,000,000 collected in excess of the rates set by the commission. The three-judge court held that under the Supreme Court decision it was required to take further evidence and make a finding of facts. To prevent such action the appeal was taken.

QUICK RELIEF FROM ITCHING

Followed use of Resinol

"For years I had a breaking out on the back of my hand. I tried various salves and ointments and had several X-Rays taken, but nothing seemed to heal the disorder. One night when my hand was itching unusually badly, my wife bought me a jar of Resinol Ointment which I used and obtained instant relief. I do not hesitate to recommend Resinol to anyone." ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
ADMIRAL SCHOFIELD, COMMANDER OF FLEET

He Will Relieve Jehu V. Chase
Who Returns to Navy
General Board.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Admiral Frank H. Schofield was designated today by Secretary Adams to be the next Commander-in-Chief of the United States fleet.

The promotion of the 62-year-old officer to relieve Admiral Jehu V. Chase in September upon the latter's completion of one year in that post was one of several changes in high command announced by the Navy Secretary.

Admiral Schofield, now commanding the battle force which is standing up the Pacific Coast toward California, was born in Jerusalem, N. Y.

When relieved, Admiral Chase will resume his place on the navy general board and revert to his permanent rank of Rear Admiral.

Rear Admiral Montgomery Meigs Taylor, now chief of the War Plans Division, was named to command the American force in Far Eastern waters. He will assume the temporary rank of full Admiral upon relieving Admiral Charles B. McVay Jr., as Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic fleet, probably early in August. Admiral McVay will return to Washington to sit on the general board and will become again a Rear Admiral. Admiral Taylor was born in Washington, D. C.

Vice Admiral R. H. Leigh, commander of battleships in the battle force, was designated to relieve Admiral Schofield as commander of the battle force with the rank of full Admiral.

Rear Admiral Luke McNamee, now commanding battle division four, will become commander of battleships of the battle force and assume the rank of Vice Admiral. Rear Admiral David F. Scott, now Navy Judge Advocate General, will succeed Admiral McNamee in command of battleship division four.

Rear Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, was designated as Chief of Staff, United States fleet.

Rear Admiral J. K. Tausig, now Chief of Staff, battleships, battle force, was designated Chief of Staff of the battle force.

The following Rear Admirals were designated members of the Navy General Board: Marc L. Bristol, J. V. Chase, C. B. McVay Jr., Rear Admiral J. R. Y. Blakely, Rear Admiral J. W. Grenslande.

Assignments to shore duties included:

Rear Admiral E. C. Kalbfus to be Chief of the War Plans Division; Rear Admiral O. G. Murfin to be Judge Advocate-General; Rear Admiral W. T. Tarrant to be Chief of the Navy Yard Division; Rear Admiral George C. Day to be Chief of the Bureau of Inspection and Survey; Rear Admiral William D. MacDougall, to command of Norfolk naval district.

Dancer Loses Suit for $62,500.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., April 3.—A Superior Court jury yesterday returned a verdict in favor of Sultan Korda, film director, defendant in a $62,500 damage suit brought by Karia Knospe Guthelein, as the result of an automobile accident Nov. 30. Miss Guthelein and her sister, Eleanor, are dancers, known as the "Sisters G." The plaintiff alleged she was injured while riding in an automobile with Korda, suffering a broken nose and an injury to her head, and that the accident was due to Korda's negligence.

Marriage for Two

ARTHUR
SOMERS ROCHE

CHAPTER FIVE.
"Marry you?"
She stared at him incredulously.
"Marry me," he said.
"But—are you joking?" she asked.
"It would be a queer joke, wouldn't it?" he retorted.
"But—you don't mean it. You don't love me."
"But I hate some one else," he said.
Now she understood. Her face was pale now, and she struggled to keep aversion from her eyes.
"But that—to hurt her—you wouldn't do that," she said.

"Wouldn't I? Try me. But you—your desire to repay—not that you need to pay, but—your words meant 'I am,' eh?"
"People can be engaged and still not love each other. They can even be married and be hardly acquainted." He suddenly became dry and business-like of tone.
"You have no money; you have a hatred of charity. You rebel at being under an obligation. The laws of New York, Miss Carroll, 'compel a husband to support a wife. There are advantages in the proposition."

"For me," she said.
"For me, also," he added. "You get protection, and support, but I get even."

"A cheap thing," she said.
"But beyond price to me," he said.

She looked at him fully a minute. Then, relaxing, sighing, she spoke.

"I will marry you."

Tracy looked at his wife. Then he glanced at the marriage license bureau official who had just made him a husband and made this stranger woman a wife. There was a look of expectancy in the eyes of the official.

He felt compelled to that conformity expected of him. He bent his head—not much, for her lips were very little below the level of his own, and his mouth touched hers. She neither greeted nor evaded his caress. The lips that met his were cold, unresponsive, but she did not turn aside her head.

The license official, conscious of a snug fee, escorted them to the door of his office, murmured banalities, which neither of them heard, and a moment later they were in a taxi, speeding up town.

IT seemed to him that, she had placed herself at the far end of the seat, that she was occupying the least possible space, as though proximity to him was distasteful.

"I'm sorry," he said.

"For what?" she asked.

He could not see her averted face.

"For kissing you," he explained.

Her shoulders moved slightly. The shrug might have indicated embarrassment, distaste, contempt or resignation.

Now she turned her head, and he felt an inward shrinking from the blazing contempt in her eyes. She had been apathetic on the ride to the city hall, and apathetic during the brief marriage ceremony.

But now that was over.

She had shown him brief glimpses of many sides of her character during the week that he had known her. There had been the stark courage of their first meeting, the fiery pride of her, and blistering self-contempt at her own physical weakness. There had been the unexpected wit when, after Dr. Blanchard's first ministrations, she had received him in his own bedroom, clothed in his pajamas. There had been the swift sympathy for his unhappiness, and then there had been her aversion when he had suggested marriage.

During the week that had intervened between his proposal and this mockery of a ceremony which they had just gone through, it had seemed to him that every time they met she deliberately selected between them a wall, an impalpable yet impassable wall. It was as though she wished to afford him no further revelations of herself, as though a lamp were extinguished upon his approach.

It had been a cruelly unfair thing to take advantage of her condition and thus gain her acceptance to a marriage that was, on the very face of things, utterly preposterous.

But she had coolly told him that unless he repented of his bargain she was not going to go through with her part of it. And he, learning under the continued publicizing given the breaking of the engagement, with Helen, dogged by reporters and hounded by cameramen, conscious of the hideous smiles of his acquaintances, obsessed with the idea of hurting Helen, had told her that he was eager to go through with it.

DR. BLANCHARD had talked with him almost hotly.

"Damn it all, Larry," he said, "there are certain decencies."

"Marriage," Tracy had mockingly answered. "Is the essence of decency."

"But it's so unfair," Blanchard had cried.

"I'd like to know what's unfair about it," Tracy had retorted. "God knows I don't want to talk about it—but do you think I like the whole world to know that I've been ill?"

"Because," said Blanchard sullenly, "you've never starved, never been up against it. Who can beat her, a wif, a stray, for jumping at a chance such as you offer her?"

"But because a young girl is willing to make a mistake doesn't mean that it's right for you to let her make it."

"You seem," said Tracy, "singularly concerned over her."

"Because she's a harr," cried Blanchard. "A straight, brave, decent—oh, hell!" He studied Tracy's countenance. "If—if you were in love with her?" He paused ex-

Wide-Brimmed Straw Hats Are New

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Large lacy straws will set off the summer dresses, their transparency flattery the face of the wearer. Dorothy Jordan shows a new model of sheer straw with braiding designs.

The girl in the drooping leghorn hat assumes the manner of a sweet young graduate—a style chosen by Lettie Hyams. The brim line is weighted down on one side by two velvet bows.

Black lace straws set back from the face by bandages across the forehead are suggested for popular "supper" hour wear. This one has a white pompon placed on one side of the underbrim to give the needed sophisticated touch.

"THAT TOUCH OF STRANGENESS"

By FRANCES OLIVIER.

"That," said Tracy, "is rather absurd, isn't it?"

Blanchard had promptly risen to revive the sensation of last week that he and Mrs. Tracy—how odd the title sounded—were out of town.

"Sorry, old man. Whatever you do—I may advance objections before it's done, but after the accomplished fact—it's all right with me. Sorry."

"All right," muttered Tracy. And that had been that.

WITH no other friend had he discussed the planned marriage. Indeed, he had hardly left the house, during the past week. He had left it to his chief clerk to postpone all legal engagements, and had refused even to answer the telephone.

And now, on the first day when Dr. Blanchard had given his consent for the patient to leave the house, they had driven down town together and been married. "Until death do us part." * * * Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder.

"All right," muttered Tracy. And that had been that.

he instructed Hogan to tell any other men who might be having second thoughts about his marriage, "I would like to revive the sensation of last week that he and Mrs. Tracy—how odd the title sounded—were out of town.

Then he went to that room which he had occupied since Joyce's arrival in his house.

How cheap a thing revenge was! And how futile, especially when one's revenge reacted—as all revenge must—upon one's self. What an ass! What a wicked fool! He, Laurence Tracy, to have married a woman about whom he knew nothing beyond the fact that her name had been Joyce Carroll.

But there were, in this city, others who knew more of his wife than the man who had married her. And one of these, aptly though euphoniously known as Ratty Hogan, looked up from the evening paper, with its glaring headline:

Laurence Tracy Marries

John Carroll.

Jillie Fiance of Helen Wilson Finds

Solace With Another Girl

to smile beautifully.

"So," said Hogan, "that's where she went. That's what happened. How in hell did she cop herself a swell like that? And what do I get for keeping my mouth shut about—everything?"

For the Tracy-Carroll wedding was to stir more than the upper world. The underworld would rip also.

Soda Water Straws.

A bundle of straws, such as are used at soda fountains, are convenient and sanitary to feed liquids to a sick child. They can be burned after using and there is no danger of breakage as with glass.

Children will oftentimes take nourishment through a fascinating straw when otherwise it would mean a difficult task.

marked is the curve of each of this face that lashes and brows meet end to end at the outer corners of the eyes. At any rate they appear to meet. An interesting effect achieved most likely by "training" and apparently by a deft touch of the eye crayon in addition.

Stare at Gwynne—and most people do—and you will see features so usual that they are almost commonplace. Her skin is no marvel, nor her hair, nor her eyes.

As for her figure, it errs on the side of leanness. And yet when you look at this girl you are struck instantly by her "difference"—"that touch of strangeness" which to a certain great Elizabethan poet signifies beauty of high degree.

Because Gwynne is the talk of every gathering and the pet rave of a dozen or more connoisseurs of feminine allure, we thought perhaps you might like us to analyze her for you, and track down her touch of difference. To which end we sat in while a well-known artist did her in black and white.

What do you suppose we found to be the secret hiding place of her special brand of magnetism? The area around her eyes. Eyebrows, eyelashes and cheek bones. Lashes with an exaggerated curl at the outer corners, eyebrows with an extreme sweep and prominent cheek bones made more so by broad nose-to-temples strokes of the rouge puff. A lady less wise and daring than this one might have considered those Mongol cheek bones imperfections to be disguised—and thereby forfeited a precious dash of the exotic. But not Gwynne.

Speaking of the obviously arched brows and upturned lashes, so this is one of those inhuman mask faces.

If prettiness is not enough for you—and if you are quite wise it will not be enough for you—to go then and search out the touch of strangeness in your face, and make the most of it. You may achieve it with just the right touch of lipstick or an off shade of eyeshadow—blue-green, for example. Or you may find that it comes with straight hair where once there were waves. Or again a new blending of powder tints may give you that unforgettable look. It may come with a new parting of your hair, who knows? But just find out anyway!

Rice Griddle Cakes.

One egg, one-half cup boiled rice, five tablespoons corn syrup, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon baking powder, enough flour to make a batter, and just the one-fourth cup milk. Mix together and fry on a griddle like hot cake.

It is all right to be nice to the telephone—but don't hold on to the telephone indefinitely. That irritates both ends of the line.

You seem to have some doubt about the boy. Exchange of words kindnesses should be given readily, in all friendships. But if you hold on an "exchange"—no, weighed too carefully, but on a equal basis. Try refusing him some time and see how he likes and takes it.

Burns

ABURN is a dangerous injury, and though it only covers a relatively small area of skin, the outcome is not infrequently fatal.

For that reason an apparently superficial burn often taxes a physician's skill, our latest studies having shown that the body as a whole is affected by burns.

The treatment of burns is too frequently thought of in terms only of the affected part or place. "What shall I put on the burn?" is the first question.

While this is important, static care and treatment have to be mind the whole body as a whole.

if not more so, than the attempt to dress up the burned area.

Local treatment in burns always aims to preserve the skin over the burned areas, prevent infection and promote healing. The specific treatment depends upon the type of burn, whether, for example, it is wet or dry, and upon the reaction of the body to the burn.

In general, burns should be so treated and handled as little as possible. If there is clothing around the burned part, it should be removed rather than drawn off. The skin should not be broken through if it is still intact. If there is a skin surface, it may be sprayed with a mild solution of tannic acid.

It is best to leave the hands as they are.

But, of course, I wonder what is the reason for your bad marks on the report card. It is in your power to remedy that? Pep up and make good grades. I believe when you mother will find some- one going your way, in whose company your mother will feel you are safe.

I am very sure your mother's unwillingness for you to go along is not inspired by any lack of faith in you. You sound pretty matter-of-fact and sensible. But however you may take her objections, you know it is really awfully sweet of her to take such tender care of you.

Grown-Up GIRL

I'll have to say to you, little Grown-Up Girl, that I believe your mother must have some good reason for not wanting you to make that train trip. Of course I do not know your territory or what difficulties or dangers might be in the way. There is no doubt, though, that your troubles will be over by the time your school is out. You and your mother will find some- one going your way, in whose company your mother will feel you are safe.

War

There is perhaps, more to that word "etiquette" than you think. It represents a long, slow advance towards civilization from primitive conditions. Confucius, the sage and wise man of China, said "goodness and virtue in themselves are not enough without politeness." He "saw courtesies as coming from the heart."

The reason from the first that conventions and rules of conduct were established is to regulate the rights of the individual. Originally, they were the rules of one to prevent encroachment.

Leopold took them for disreputable tramps, until the man addressed him as "Imperial Highness," and he recognized the tattered nondescript as a former lieutenant in the army, who had married an opera singer. The woman was Vogel's wife.

Except for the guffaws of Johanna when she saw the couple, "comparative harmony" was pre- served until dinner to which the party invited. Then, when the meat was served, Vogel asked the name of the Wolfing butcher, and calmly telephoned him to cease all future deliveries.

Before Leopold could protest, Vogel and his wife burst forth into a torrent of protest at the mode of life of their host, asserting he and Johanna were "living all wrongs" and that "every time you eat meat you are really eating a corpse." It was as bad as eating each other.

"Surely you, Mrs. Wolfing, wouldn't like to kill and chop up your husband and then sit down and eat him—now, would you?"

"No, I certainly wouldn't," replied Johanna sullenly. "Leopold would be too tough."

EAR MARTHA CARR: Not

long ago I was invited to a party given by a woman of known social position who was entertain- ing a simple, but charming little woman from out of town, also at this party was another woman who planned to be asked to the great house, that she had eyes and ears for no one but the "great" hostess. Apparently she addressed just a word to this little guest, but her eyes beamed every time a woman she thought important came near. Don't you think she was rude?

M. E. B.

Yes, both rude and ridiculous. All she needed was a placard hung about her neck, "I am a social climber and a snob."

EAR MARTHA CARR: Do you think it necessary to have artificial light for an afternoon tea?

It is usual, and I think always makes a more attractive affair, to have the house darkened and candles instead of daylight. But in the spring, where the out-of-doors is singing with the coming of summer, the sun stays high and late and breezes from the outside are so welcome, that candle light is not necessary.

HOW AN ARCHDUKE FORSOOK ROYALTY

Leopold Tells How He Fled From Native Land to Wed Commoner—War Left Him Penniless, and He Became a Sausage Hawker.

EAR MRS. CARR: I wish you would please help me with my problem. I am a boy of 13. My parents don't want to buy me either because they say I'm just dressing up for the girls. And whenever I make a little speech, my report card shows think of it, which is not true, because don't ever have any many (don't think that I want to call on girls and take them out, because I don't). But every boy my age likes to have money to spend envelope for a personal one.

Leopold visited Salzburg, ostensibly for a rest, which enabled Leopold to arrange with her for the escape to Switzerland. They slipped out of the castle at night, Luisa taking her personal jewels, and escaped across the border. There Luisa joined the tutor, and Leopold married Johanna.

"Voe be the man who marries a woman from a sense of duty or material gain, or for the sake of his domestic convenience, or from any other motive than that of pure altruistic love." Sooner or later he must live to regret his marriage.

So Leopold exclaims in beginning the account of his first matrimonial venture. Events bear him out, for immediately they were married Johanna became cold and petulant, so that soon Leopold of the royal Hapsburg blood was a thoroughly henpecked husband. With an income settled upon him by his father, who had also purchased him a house in Zug, Switzerland, Leopold took his bride on a honeymoon, filled with fault finding. The honeymoon terminated with Johanna insisting her two sisters live with them.

Chatter, chatter, the entire day, Leopold declares, was the sole occupation of his three fates, while to escape their gossip and verbal flagellations he took refuge in cafes. That was at Munich. When the newlyweds went to Zug Leopold refused to take the sisters along with the result that while he was preparing their new home for occupancy Johanna emerged from her pouts only to give commands about the arrangements. Further, when he called at the hotel to escort Johanna home, he found one of her sisters there.

Leopold sought solace from his marital troubles by manual efforts about his garden, which bordered on a lake. He supervised the workmen making improvements. He built a boat, also, to sail the lake, and entered in a polytechnic school at Zurich.

THIS is the second and final story of the turbulent life of Leopold Wolfing, member of the royal Hapsburg House of Austria and former Archduke of Austria. "The Life Story of Archduke to Grocer," published by E. P. Dutton & Co. in yesterday's account was told the incidents of his early life in the Imperial Castle of Salzburg, and the domineering position in the Hapsburg family held by the Emperor Francis Joseph. At the age of 15 years he entered the Austrian navy, which culminated in a trial as companion to Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent. On the voyage he was converted to the cult, and eventually became a member of the World War, was described as a brutal scapogreco.

The quarrel cost Leopold his commission in the navy and he

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Mother Opossum's Ways

"MY babies are still without hair," said Mother Opossum after John and Peggy and the Little Black Clock had sat down, "but later on they will have spindly fur."

"But they will not leave my pouch until they are quite good-sized. In fact, they will not leave until their rear isn't any room for them any more."

"They will learn—as all opossums do—to pretend they are lifeless when danger is near."

"But you mustn't think they are cowardly because of this. Oh, no, indeed, but they will not take any foolish chances."

"You will notice that I have a snout something like the snout of a pig, but that doesn't bother me. I am not very clever, and none of the other members of the family are."

"We will eat anything at all, vegetables, chickens—almost anything."

"We go marketing at night, for we like the night time best of all. The day time we consider best for sleeping."

The children looked at the hole beneath the stump of the tree where this opossum family made their home, and they saw other opossum homes in holes in other trees.

Then the Little Black Clock asked some the opossums if they would show John and Peggy how they "played dead." All the opossums came forth and suddenly dropped down to the ground.

They looked so limp and lifeless that John and Peggy could hardly believe they were really alive.

Then they all got up again, and said they must really go to sleep, as it was daytime, and that they hoped John and Peggy would not think they were rude."

The children and the Little Black Clock left them then and the Clock said that they would now go and visit a whale!

Mighty Good Lemon Pie.

One cup sugar, four level tablespoons cornstarch. Mix well in two cups boiling water. Turn into a double boiler along with the juice of two lemons, two egg-yolks, a large lump of butter. Cook for one-half-hour. Let cool and then turn into a baked pie crust. Make a meringue of the egg whites and any extra whites you may have on hand and pile on top. The meringue on a pie can never be too high and fluffy. Brown lightly in the oven.

ROCKNE FUNERAL DRAWS THOUSANDS TO NOTRE DAME

File Past Bier in His Home—Cortege Pauses as It Passes Football Stadium on Way to Church.

PLAYERS BEAR CASKET TO GRAVE

Former Stars and Famous Coaches From All Over Country Attend the Services.

By the Associated Press. SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 4—Thousands passed the bier of Knute Rockne at his home if Sunnymeade today before his body was started to its final resting place in the Highland Cemetery. Rockne, Notre Dame University's famous football coach, was killed with seven other persons in an airplane crash in Kansas Tuesday.

His friends took a last glance at the sealed casket in his home as they went to the Church of the Sacred Heart on the campus of Notre Dame for the final services.

It was after 2 p.m. when the cortege started from his home. Lining the streets, thousands stood bareheaded in reverence to the man who had meant so much to them and the sports world. As passed the Notre Dame football stadium, which Rockne himself made possible, there was a pause for a reverent salute.

Business Halted in City.

It was like a Sunday morning still and peaceful. All business was suspended and trains running into South Bend paused for a minute as a mark of respect.

One-half of the day's football coach's friends and intimates were able to squeeze into the church for the services, but other thousands bareheaded, heard the service through the amplifiers.

The body was borne to a grave by six of the youths who starred on his championship team of the last two years—Tom Conroy, Tom Yarr, Marchmont Schwab, Frank Carideo, Marty Brill, Larry Mullins.

Mrs. Rockne's 72-year-old mother, the Catholic fathers of Notre Dame followed them from the church.

Simplicity Marks Service. In keeping with Mrs. Rockne's wish for simplicity, the funeral service was short. Chants by church choir were followed by a eulogy by the Rev. Father Charles O'Donnell, president of the university, after which the body was buried with the following interment: Conroy, the Michael M. Mulcahy, vice president of the university, deceased; Rev. Thomas Steiner, dean of engineering school of the university; sub-dean, the Rev. John O'Hara, prefect of religion, master of ceremonies, the William Connor of the university faculty.

Final benediction was at cemetery, situated on the rolling hills two and one-half miles northwest of the university.

Services Broadcast. Thousands were in South Bend for the funeral. Among them were persons of every walk of life. There were special representatives of King Haakon of Norway, Rockne's native land. There was also every football coach of distinction, almost every football player, his tutelage of 13 years, including the famous "Four Horsemen" were on hand as were his mates, 1934, statemen and droids who didn't know him, who had seen his name embossed over stories of Notre Dame so often that they grew love him.

The Columbia Broadcasting arranged for a National hook-up a description of the services. With Graham McNamee as announcer, a tribute will be made to Rockne in a 15-minute broadcast from New York via WJZ and stations at 7:45 o'clock tonight. Patrick Haggerty of the Notre Dame faculty; Hugh O'Donnell, business manager of the New Times, and Margaret Anglin participate.

Burial Under Council Oak.

Today many plans are afoot to memorialize Rockne's name. There is one certain one. His grave will lie beneath Old Council Oak, a gnarled tree in the center of the cemetery. It was under this old oak that La Salle and the pipe of peace with the two and one-half centuries ago told them of the "Great who controls the sun and the rain and snow. life and death."
